STATE WILL CLOSE IN BEATTIE CASE

Only Few Witnesses to Controvert Unexpected Development Yesterday.

MORE THAN ONE BLOOD SPOT

Plans of Prosecution Rather Upset by Witness—Prisoner to Testify in His Own Behalf—Cross Examination.

Chesterfield Court House, Va., Aug. 29.—An auburn-haired boy, talking swiftly but clearly, revealed on the witness stand today to the surprise of both defense and prosecution in the trial of Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., for wife murder, that he had observed several blood spots along Midlothian Turnpike where the crime occurred.

Hitherto it had been presumed no blood spot existed, except one, near the place where Mrs. Beattie is supposed to have succumbed.

Alexander Robertson was the boy and what he told the jury unexpectedly in response to a question from counsel for the defense, entirely upset the plan of the commonwealth to rest its case today. Prosecutor Wendenburg announced that it would be necessary for him now to call at least seven or eight witnesses to controvert the boy's testimony.

On direct examination by Prosecutor Wendenburg, when the latter was seeking to show where the boy found a certain yellow hair pin similar to that worn by Mrs. Beattie, Robertson referred to its distance from "the first blood spot."

"Were there two blood spots?" asked Henry M. Smith, Jr., counsel for the defense in apparent surprise, and the boy not only told of a second blot of blood, but of several other smaller spots near it.

The revelation concerning the presence of more than one blood spot is in line with the contention of the defense that all blood on the road oozed from the car in which Henry C. Beattie, Jr., alleges his wife was shot. The prosecution's theory has been that the large blood spot in the road at the place where Mrs. Beattie is alleged to have been killed resulted from a murder committed outside the machine and not in the seat as Henry alleges.

The prosecution has pointed out by witnesses and its statements concerning an examination of the machine immediately after the murder that no blood was found on either running board of the car, and that the dust pan underneath the car would have caught any blood that trickled through the front part of the machine from the seat and that all the blood visible had hardened on the floor of the car just beneath the steering wheel.

Robertson was summoned as a witness by the prosecution only for the purpose of stating that he had found a hair pin, but his testimony as a result of the questions of counsel for the defense soon established that he would be an important witness for the defense and he subsequently will be called by the defense if necessary. In the meantime, the prosecution will gather over night witnesses to show that many people looked for other blood spots and found none.

The prosecution announced just before adjournment of court at 4:30 o'clock today that after the introduction of several witnesses along this line tomorrow it would rest its case.

The Robertson boy, a brother of a reporter on one of the Richmond newspapers, has been employed about the court room in carrying his brother's manuscript from the court house to a telegraph office nearby and as he finished as a witness in the chair, he grabbed several sheets of matter by his brother about his own testimony and dashed away to the improvised telegraph office in a barn about 75 yards away.

Henry C. Beattie, Jr., the accused, and Paul D. Beattie, his cousin, who yesterday on the witness stand told of an alleged confession by Henry concerning the murder, were confined in separate cells in Chesterfield county jail tonight. Paul hitherto had been kept in confinement in Richmond in default of bond, but today, after he finished on the witness stand, Judge Watson suddenly ordered his retention in jail here.

Paul Beattie's story of yesterday was not shaken in the cross examination by counsel for the defense, but it became apparent today that the defense intends to refute his testimony by placing on the stand the prisoner himself. Mr. Smith made this announcement casually during the day's session when John Sandifer, instead of giving expected testimony for the prosecution, gave character testimony for the defense and Prosecutor Wendenburg entered objection. When Mr. Smith said that he intended to put the prisoner on the stand the court allowed Sandifer to proceed with his delineation of Henry C. Beattie, Jr.'s, character and reputation.

Alexander Robertson, a 16-year-old boy, was the last witness. He testified to having found a woman's yellow hair pin on the Thursday morning after the murder. He said he gave the pin to his older brother, Taylor Robertson, a newspaper man in the court room at the time.

"Is it your purpose to prove that the pin was Mrs. Beattie's?" asked

PRESIDENT TAFT INDIGNANT

Hampton School President Said, Won Nation's Gratitude When It Graduated Booker Washington. Belongs to South.

Beverly, Mass., Aug. 29.—Speaking in behalf of the Indian and Negro industrial school at Hampton, Va., of which he is trustee, President Taft today voiced his indignation at the necessity that such useful institutions must beg for money, and at the failure of the nation's many millionaires to come to their rescue with contributions. In the graduation of Booker Washington, the President said, Hampton had done enough to entitle it to the gratitude of the country.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. T. Jefferson Coolidge, at Manchester, Mass.

"Governor Mann, of Virginia, the first Virginian governor whom we have caught in New England and brought up here for this purpose," as the President smilingly referred to him, many of the trustees and some of the men interested in raising funds for Hampton were present.

"I always came in with a living protest—a protest of indignation—that an institution so useful, that is throughout the country," said the President, "forming as it does the basis of our industrial schools, and suggesting a remedy and method of meeting the negro problem, should still be on a basis necessitating the organization of such meetings as this, and the begging by such men as you see before you for money enough to run it from year to year. We have lots of millionaires in this country and why cannot the contributions be sufficiently large to put such an institution as Hampton on a basis that shall be self-supporting?"

"Hampton graduated Booker Washington and as somebody has said, if it had not done anything else, that alone would entitle it to the gratitude of the country. Booker Washington established Tuskegee and from Tuskegee has sprung many schools of a similar character throughout the South. Northern generosity and donations with reference to Southern education and the ducation of the negro, have, of course, its fruits, and I don't want in any way to diminish the desire of those who wish to give. The negro is a citizen of the South, a very important part of the industrial make-up of the South, and the negro, therefore, ought to come and is coming more and more under the guardianship of the South."

SUCCESSOR TO MR. VINES

First Baptist Church Congregation in Asheville is Considering Call

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Asheville, N. C., Aug. 29.—A great deal of interest has been felt in the selection of a pastor for the First Baptist Church in place of Dr. W. M. Vines, who resigned some weeks ago to accept the pastorate of the First Baptist church of St. Joseph, Mo., and who preached his farewell sermon yesterday. While the recommendation has not yet been made to the church by the committee of the whole it is generally understood that Rev. Oliver J. Copeland, of Gainesville, Ga., will be recommended to the church and that it is likely that the church will vote to call him. A recommendation is to be made to the church next Sunday morning.

G. F. Stradley has been to Gainesville and has talked the matter over with Dr. Copeland. The sub-committee and the committee of the whole met a few days ago and the question was discussed. While no official statement could be obtained this morning with reference to their action, the general understanding is that they came to the decision as above stated.

Dr. Copeland is not unknown in Asheville. After the resignation of Dr. Lunsford as pastor of the First Baptist church several years ago, Dr. Copeland received a call from the church and delivered several sermons here. He did not accept the call, one reason being that he had undertaken to build a fine church in Gainesville. He has the reputation of being a most able and learned man. He is now traveling in the interest of the Greater Shorter College, of Rome, Ga.

AMERICAN GIVEN TIME.

Tobacco Trust Given Few "Days of Grace" to Comply.

New York, Aug. 29.—The time for depositing stock and bonds of the American Tobacco Company, preliminary to the reorganization ordered by the Supreme Court, has been extended to September 15th, for the stock and to September 27th for the bonds. Yesterday was the final day originally set for such deposits, but a conference of the securities committee decided upon the postponement. About 50 per cent. of the stock has been deposited.

TEXAS SENATOR ROBBED.

Special Session of Texas Legislature Adjourned.

Austin, Texas, Aug. 29.—During an all night session of the Texas State Senate, held on account of no quorum while Senator Claude Hudspeth, of El Paso slept on a cot near a window with his trousers on a nearby chair, a thief climbed to the window and took the Senator's purse, which contained $74. The special session ended by limitation today.

FIFTEEN VICTIMS AT CHARLESTON

Hurricane Left Death and Destruction in Its Wake.

NAVY YARD BADLY WRECKED

Six Torpedo Boats Thrown High on Beach — Seawalls Almost Demolished—Injury to Crops—Shipping News

Charleston, S. C., Aug. 29.—Additional reports from the country surrounding Charleston received tonight brings the list of dead as a result of the terrific storm of Sunday night up to fifteen. This list is expected to be enlarged when reports are received from the more remote sea islands. Conservative estimates place the property damage in the neighborhood of $1,000,000. The revised list of dead follows:

Alozo J. Coburn, Southern Railway engineer.
Ida Morgan, white.
Rose Robinson, white.
Mrs. M. Goodson, Waycross, Ga.
Charles Goodson, Waycross, Ga.
E. V. Cutler, Charleston.
Robert E. Smith, Columbia, S. C.
Mrs. G. Richter, Charleston.
Mary Richter, Charleston
Lillian Stender, Charleston.
Four unknown negro men, and one negro woman, unknown.

The bodies of Ida Morgan and Rose Robinson were found today buried beneath their house which had floated off in the storm and the other occupant, a man, escaping. Five persons, Mr. and Mrs. Goodson, Mrs. and Miss Richter and Lillian Stender, lost their lives when the Wahoo Mills, just across the Asheley river, from the city, were swept away.

Charleston tonight rests tranquil under clear skies. The streets are strewn with wreckage and with uprooted trees. The water front is in many places dismantled, many wharves being absolutely ruined.

It is feared that the cotton and rice crops have been dealt a staggering blow.

Charleston Recovering.

Charleston, S. C., Aug. 29.—Charleston is steadily recovering from the disastrous result of the hurricane. A large force of laborers is cleaning the debris-strewn streets. Train service is approaching the normal. As far as can be ascertained, 11 human lives were lost in Charleston county and a score or more of people injured. The property damage amounts to at least one million dollars. Shipping has suffered, but it is impossible at this time to fix the loss in dollars.

Scores of launches had broken away and efforts are being exerted to catch them. In the low-lying sections there is much suffering and the danger of sickness because of the storm is said to be great. Heavy rains last night contributed to the height of the water in the streets and yards caused by the abnormal tide, many lower floors being inundated with loss to household effects.

The Red Cross Society has volunteered to render any financial assistance that might be needed. The telegraph and telephone companies are striving to get their wires into working order.

At the Navy Yard.

Washington, Aug. 29.—The raging storm, which swept the South Atlantic Sunday night, left its imprint on the navy. Six torpedo boats were wrenched from their moorings at the Charleston navy yard and tossed as toys high upon the beach by the 90-mile gale. Many buildings of the yard are believed to be wrecked. No estimate of the damage can be made here because of the interrupted telegraphic sedvice. It is not believed that any lives were lost at the navy yard. The commandant appealed for $20,000 as an emergency fund with which to make immediate repairs. Though this amount will not by any means cover the loss sustained by the navy, Acting Secretary of the Navy Winthrop late today authorized an expenditure of $15,000 for the urgent work.

The wireless station of the yard is out of commission and the meagre official report to the department was sent by telegraph from Summerville, S. C. From the few details in the dispatch, it is gleaned that roofs and doors are strewn about the station and that many of the wharves and sea walls have been almost demolished. The lighting and power wires are on the ground and the trackage of the yard has been blown away.

The violence of the storm is indicated by its play with the torpedo boats. These form part of the reserve torpedo fleet which is stationed at Charleston, and were strongly fastened to the stall-like wharves of the inner harbor. While they are obsolete in design, it was a revelation to the naval officers here to learn that they had been picked up by the wind and swept ashore. With a shudder, they contemplated the possibility of these little vessels with a human burden on the open sea during such a storm.

Major General Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the army, was notified tonight that 16 buildings at Fort Moultrie, Ga., were more or less damaged by the storm on the South Atlantic coast. No casualties were reported and no relief was asked.

CHARLOTTE PEOPLE IN WREGK

Twenty-two Injured But None Seriously—Train Derailed Near King's Mountain—Track Is Badly Torn Up 200 Feet

Greenville, S. C., Aug. 29.—A Sunday school excursion train leaving Charlotte this morning over the Charlotte-Atlanta division of the Southern Railway, bound for Johnson City, Tenn., was wrecked four miles south of King's Mountain at 9:40 o'clock, derailing the tender, one baggage car and five coaches and injuring twenty-two of the 175 passengers. None of the injured passengers was seriously hurt. With a few exceptions, the most of them were residents of Charlotte.

The cause of the wreck is unknown. Two hundred feet of track were torn up and all trains were delayed several hours. The track was cleared at 5:45 o'clock this afternoon.

Another Account.

King's Mountain, Aug. 29.—The excursion train that left Charlotte this morning for Johnson City, via the Southern and Clinchfield, was derailed at Crocker's Crossing, four miles south of King's Mountain this morning at 9:47 o'clock. The brake beam of the engine, tender dropped on the track and caused the trouble, being dragged and tearing up the track for a distance of between 200 and 300 yards. The excursion cars, baggage cars and five passenger coaches, coming immediately behind, were derailed, of course, and the second to the last car was thrown on its side.

Strange to say, no one was killed or even injured beyond being shaken up. Naturally, however, the excursionists were a badly frightened crowd. The fact that there were no casualties is attributable to the fact that heavy coaches were used on the train.

So serious was the accident, the tearing up of the track, etc., that the authorities decided not to continue the excursion on to Johnson City. Instead the excursionists will be transferred to regular passenger train No. 12 and taken back to Charlotte this afternoon.

The excursion train was running as second No. 39 and was in charge of Captain Allwood, Engineer Crocker was in the cab.

SHOOTING OF COLLECTOR.

Reported That Moonshiner Has Given Himself Up—Wilkes County.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Asheville, August 29.—Information has been received here by the revenue department that one of the men who is alleged to have been implicated in the shooting of Deputy Collector Henry, during a raid on moonshiners in Wilkes county a week or two ago, has given himself up to the authorities. This is Zonia Nance. It is said that he admits that he was connected with the distillery but denies that he had anything to do with the shooting. He is to be tried before the United States commissioner August 30th.

Just after the shooting of Mr. Henry two men were arrested, but three escaped. These were Roscoe Lane and two Nances. There was a reward of $300 offered for Zonia Nance and $500 each for the other two.

Mr. Henry returned to Asheville a few days ago, and is now at his home. It is said that he continues to improve.

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 29.—Rain has been falling throughout Kentucky for ten hours, effectually breaking the worst drought in thirty years in this State. Crops will be greatly benefitted.

MEXICAN POLITICS NOW TO THE FORE

National Convention of Progressive Party Adopts Its First Platform.

NOMINATIONS FOLLOW TODAY

Many Reforms Are Called For—Revision of Election Laws and Separation of Church and State —The Planks.

Mexico City, Aug. 29.—Wearied by the exercise of their constitutioanl but hitherto unused right to nominate candidates for the Presidency and vice-presidency, delegates to the first National Convention of the Progressive Party late tonight adopted a platform that sags beneath its burden of reforms.

Tomorrow it is expected the nominations will be made. The plank of the platform provided for the strict maintenance of the constitution of '57. Some delegate proposed that there be added to this "and the laws of the reform," the measure by which Benito Juarez brought about the separation of Church and State.

Delegates jealous of the untrammeled exercise of their civil rights, gesticulated and shouted their approval of the amendment.

In the end the plank as written was adopted.

The convention pledged its candidates to carry out the principles of ante-election and to work for a revision of the election laws.

Another plank provides for a revision of the system of taxing, favors the development of public resources and prices to combat monopolies and special privileges.

The party pledges its representatives to work for a reform of the judicial and legal systems. Improvement in the educational system of the country also is promised.

If elected on this platform, Francisco I. Madero, Jr., may be expected to exercise a friendly interest in Central American affairs. One provision of the part's programme is for an extension of the "Nation's friendly relations with foreign countries," especially those of Latin America.

The provision concludes with the promise to "direct prudently the policy of government towards bringing about a union of the Central American Republics."

Special attention is paid to the interests of the laboring element in one plank, which promises "to improve the moral, intellectual and material conditions of working men."

SIMMONS ON HUSTINGS.

Senior Senator Will Speak at Educational Rally at Matthews, N. C.

Charlotte, N. C., Aug. 29.—Senator F. M. Simmons has telegraphed to the committee that he will be at Matthews on Thursday, August 31, to deliver an address at the educational rally at Matthews on the date named.

The coming of Senator Simmons to Mecklenburg, following the visits of several of the other senatorial candidates during the past few weeks, will be a signal for a general rally of the supporters of the North Carolina Senator in this section, and many Charlotte friends of Senator Simmons are preparing to attend the speaking at Matthews Thursday.

Mr. Cameron Morrison, of the Charlotte bar, one of the ablest campaigners in the city or county, will be on the programme also, and will speak in the afternoon. The gathering, however, will be educational, and not political in its character.

The occasion is to be an educational rally of all of the friends of education in the Matthews section and throughout the county, the exercises to be held on the ground of the Matthews High School.

THEY DENOUNCE TAFT.

National Independent Negro League Goes After Mr. Taft.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 29—In denouncing at tonight's session of the National Independent Political League, the lynching of negroes, Bishop Alexander Walters declared that President Taft was "one of the weakest Presidents the country had ever had in view of the fact that he had remained silent in the face of continued reports of lynchings about the country." The following officers were chosen:

President, J. R. Clifford, Martinsburg, Va.; vice presidents, L. C. Moore, Mississippi; Prof. Benjamin B. Church, Salisbury, N. C.; Bishop H. N. Turner, Atlanta, Ga.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 29.—Tyrus Cobb, crack centerfielder of the Detroit League team, has signed a contract to go on the stage as a star in one of George Ade's comedies. It is planned to rewrite the piece into a baseball plot.

GORMAN GETS NOMINATION

Son of State Senator Gubernatorial Nominee of Democrats in Maryland—Senator Blair Lee Opposed Him

Baltimore, Aug. 29.—Returns from today's Democratic primary election in Maryland indicate that State Senator Arthur Pue Gorman, son of the late United States Senator Gorman, will be the nominee of the Democratic party for governor at the November election.

Senator Gorman, who received the support of United States Senator Jno. Walter Smith, and the Baltimore city organization, carried all four of the districts in Baltimore city by large majorities, and returns from the State indicate that he has carried a sufficient number of the counties to insure a majority of the votes in the State convention, September 7th.

Mr. Gorman's opponent in the primary was State Senator Blair Lee, who had the support of Congressmen Talbot and Lewis, Governor Austin L. Crothers and the so-called Progressive element of the Democrats.

Today's primary also determined the nominations for Attorney General, Comptroller, members of the Maryland Senate and House of Delegates and the State Central Committee.

Phillips Lee Goldsborough, collector of internal revenue at Baltimore, is unopposed for the Republican nomination for Governor.

INTRICACIES OF THE LAW

American Bar Association Receives Committee's Report—Proceedings

Boston, Aug. 29.—The results of a year's investigations by more than a dozen committees on the intricacies of various branches of law and legal procedure, were presented tonight before the annual session of the American Bar Association. The convention opened with the President's address, delivered by Edgar H. Farrar, of New Orleans, which was followed by the election of the general council, including one member from each State and territory.

One of the speakers today was Baron Uchida, Japanese ambassador to the United States who spoke on "The Teaching of Jurisprudence in Japan."

A recommendation that the American Bar Association oppose any attempt toward the repeal of the National Bankruptcy Act was made in the report of the committee on Commercial Law. The committee urged that the Association assert every endeavor to secure the defeat of the bill to repeal the bankruptcy act introduced by Representative Clayton, now pending in Congress.

Acts relative to wife and child desertion and to the probating in one State of wills made in another State were recommended for endorsement by the committee on uniform state laws. Its report stated that the desertion act already has been passed in five States, Washington, Kansas, Rhode Island, Michigan and Wisconsin. It provides for punishment of deserters by imprisonment at hard labor, a portion of the proceeds of such labor to be devoted to the support of the deserted wife or children. The committee urged that the Bar Association endorse the principle of the act.

FAVORABLE FOR COTTON

Weather During Week as Shown in National Bulletin

Washington, Aug. 29.—In the eastern States of the cotton belt the weather during the week ending yesterday was mostly favorable although the rainfall was generally light and it was still dry in some sections, according to the National Weekly Weather Bulletin issued today. The weather continued partly cloudy, with frequent showers in Louisiana, Arkansas and Mississippi, but more sunshine and drier weather were needed. High temperatures and dry weather prevailed in Texas and Oklahoma the first of the week, while good showers and cooler weather came the latter part over most of these States.

Conditions by States follow:

Virginia—Precipitation about normal in ..orth, and above normal in all other sections, except extreme southeastern. Sunshine above average.

North Carolina—Scattered showers, some good local rains in southeastern and central portions. The temperature above normal. Sunshine above normal.

South Carolina—Temperature and precipitation about normal, most of rainfall occurring at close of week, accompanied by gales on coast. Sunshine about normal.

SAW DEAD IN ICE.

Tourists Crossing Switzerland Beheld Gruesome Sight Underneath.

Berne, Switzerland, Aug. 29. — Tourists while crossing the Loelschen Glacier yesterday saw deep down in the clear ice the faces of two dead men. Guides accompanying the party chipped out with their ice axes the frozen bodies of the two men and brought them to the surface.

The bodies have not yet been identified, but they probably are those of two London tourists named Bemerbecke and Cein, who disappeared fourteen years ago.

SPEAKER CLARK HAMMERS MR. TAFT

President Trying to Run Amuck Among Democrats and Insurgents.

DEFEAT STARES HIM IN FACE

Clark Declares Taft is Mad and Ungrateful—Would Have Been Discredited But for Democrats—Politics.

Quincy, Ill., Aug. 29.—Speaker Champ Clark, before leaving here early today, in a signed interview replied emphatically to President Taft's speech delivered at Hamilton, Mass., last Saturday, accusing the President of not stating facts. He said he did not reply for the insurgent Republicans who, "no doubt will take up the cudgels in their own behalf."

He declared that if the tariff board is to be used as a pretext for delaying tariff revision downward, the Democrats will cut off its supplies.

"President Taft's speech at Hamilton, Mass., last Saturday," said Mr. Clark, "can only be described as remarkable when the history of the recent past is taken into consideration. He essayed the rather large stunt of running amuck on the Democrats and insurgent Republicans in Congress, singling out Mr. Chairman Underwood and myself particularly as Democratic targets.

"I accept his onslaught as a badge of honor.

"The President seems to have been in a bad temper; because he sees defeat staring him in the face. I cannot and will not permit his personal strictures and his bald misstatements of historical facts to go unchallenged.

"The President's criticism of Mr. Underwood and myself, which is essentially a criticism of all Democrats in the House and Senate, because all Democrats stood together, is absolutely uncalled for and is as ungrateful a performance as I can remember; for, if it had not been for the action of the Democrats in the House in both the 61st and 62nd Congresses, in lining up almost unanimously in favor of reciprocity with Canada, he would have been the most thoroughly discredited and humiliated President since the days of Andrew Johnson.

"With all the influence and patronage of his great office he could not muster a majority of House Republicans for reciprocity in either the 61st or the 62nd Congresses.

"The President says that we did not play politics about reciprocity, but that we did play politics about the tariff. The only politics we played was to keep faith with the people. If any politics was played on reciprocity, the President himself played it—personal at that.

"He seems to think that we ought to have adjourned as soon as reciprocity was disposed of—that is, he seems to think that Congress is composed of a lot of school boys to be ordered about by him as head teacher; but he was forewarned both by Mr. Underwood and myself that if he called an extraordinary session we would pass tariff bills and such other bills as the Democrats deemed advisable. He will not deny that statement.

"If we had done less than we did do, we would not have been worthy of so great a portion of public confidence as we now enjoy. We made the best record of constructive statesmanship made by any Congress in the same length of time in a generation and that fact is precisely what caused the President to assail the Democrats in Congress.

"He had said the rates on wool schedule in the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill were too high and ought to be reduced. We reduced them. In the teeth of his Winona speech, and his other declarations to the effect that said rates were too high and ought to be reduced, he vetoed our wool bill which largely reduced the rates and would have greatly relieved the people by giving them much cheaper clothing and blankets. He vetoed it, thereby going over boots and breeches to the stand-patters.

"We cheerfully meet him on that issue.

"The President endeavors to convey the impression that Mr. Underwood and I advocated his tariff commission. We did no such thing.

"We were never in favor of a tariff board or commission under the control of the President alone and responsive to him only. The Congressional Record will fully and clearly prove my contention herein stated.

Several members of the House, both Republicans and Democrats, including Mr. Underwood and myself, have spent half a life time studying and debating tariff. Many of us participated in the hearing and debates on the Payne-Aldrich-Smoot bill, which the President has declared is the best tariff bill ever passed and which I confidently assert is the worst.

"It will be noted that while the President's conscience would not permit him to sign a bill revising even one schedule—the wool schedule—the rates of which he declared to be too high, and in need of reduction, without recommendation from his board of non-experts, he promptly signed the outrageous Payne-Aldrich-Smoot tariff bill without the counsel, advice or tuition of any tariff board whatsoever.

"That bill was so bad that in a

Detroit, Aug. 29—After Jack Coombs had apparently won the game for Philadelphia by driving in two runs with his homer in the 11th, Crawford doubled with the bases full in Detroit's half, scoring Tutweiler and Lathers and when Lord threw wild to third, Bush came home with the run which gave the Tigers a 9 to 8 victory. Detroit found Morgan for five runs in the fifth and when he walked Drake in the sixth he was replaced by Danforth, who held Detroit to two singles in four innings. Philadelphia's battery was derricked in the ninth to allow Lapp and Coombs to hit and the pinch hitters drove in the two runs that tied the score. In the 11th Lapp again singled and Coombs' homer past Cobb put Philadelphia in the lead. Jones then replaced Baumann and singled. Tutweiler ran for Jones. Stanage struck out. Lathers, batting for Works, smashed a fierce drive at Collins, which took a false bound and struck Collins on the nose, putting him out of the game. Derrick taking his place. Bush got an infield hit, Cobb flied to Baker and then Crawford banged his double past Barry, which won the game. A physician who treated Collins stated the latter's nose was badly bruised, but not broken.

DOINGS AT WHITEVILLE.

Assault Case Postponed—Deaths in County—Other News.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, N. C., Aug. 29.—The case against Mr. Aubry Smith, charged with assaulting Mr. J. R. Maxwell, was called yesterday. Mr. I. B. Tucker represented the defense, and Mr. L. V. Grady the prosecution. After some discussion, it was decided to consolidate the charges and both the mayor and Magistrate Bruce Pierce try same. On motion of Mr. Grady, the case was continued, as the condition of Mr. Maxwell is such that he could not appear in court, being confined to his home and his sight almost blinded. Dr. H. B. Maxwell testified as to his condition. The next fight was made against increasing the bond of Mr. Smith. Mr. Tucker stated that the cash bond of $100 was sufficient, for it was simply a fight and the usual bond for such trivial cases was $25. After consultation, the bond was made $200. While it is not believed that Mr. Maxwell's condition is anyways serious, his face is badly battered up and he is said to be also bruised on the side. It was an unfortunate affair and very much regretted. The two parties are cousins. Aubry Smith is a son of Mr. Lloyd Smith, who is in charge of the Council store at Wananish, and a gentleman universally respected.

Mrs. L. H. Malpass, Sr., of Freeman, was carried Monday to Wilmington, for medical treatment by Dr. Wright Hall.

Whiteville citizens were grieved to learn of the death of Mr. George Nicholas, of Freeman, at the James Walker Memorial Hospital, where he was carried for treatment for typhoid pneumonia. He leaves a widow and six children. Mr. E. B. Fuhr, of Freeman, has brought his little son Carl home from the hospital in Lumberton, where he has been for several weeks.

Master George Longworth, the five-year-old son of Mr. and Brs. John M. Butler, died near Smyrna, of diptheria.

Mr. Bass, of Fairmont, has purchased Mr. J. T. Herring's farm, as also a farm belonging to Mr. Seth Smith, near Smyrna. A great many land sales are reported in this county and many new citizens will move in next year.

The project of draining White Marsh has not by any means been abandoned. The objectors mostly live on the upper edge of the Western Prong branch of the marsh, and they can be left out without interfering with the work. It is now proposed to secure consent of parties living below the raised roadway at Fork Church, an organize a drainage district from that point to the railroad. If any land owners object, others will buy them out or pay their assessment for half the land drained. Senator Simmons will be asked to secure the services of a government engineer to do the preliminary work, when it will be known the cost of drainage and practicability of the scheme.

Mr. J. R. Williamson returned yesterday for a month's visit to the Chimney Rock section of Western North Carolina and reports a delightful time.

Mrs. S. E. Memory is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Davis, at Southport. Mr. Memory spent Sunday with them, and returned home this morning. Mr. T. S. Memory spent Sunday at Carolina Beach. Our people are now beginning to visit Carolina Beach, and pronounce it a charming resort for health and pleasure.

Mr. K. B. Council, of Wananish, was in town the other day and says the Waccamaw Club House is about completed and will be open in time for the game season. Mr. Council says a number of pleasure parties are now camping at and visiting the lakeside.

FLYNN AND JEANETTE.

White Man Had Shade Better of It With Negro Heavyweight.

New York, Aug. 29.—"Porky" Flynn had a shade the better of Joe Jeanette, the colored heavyweight, in a ten-round bout at the Fairmont Athletic Club tonight. It was the first fight in this city under the new boxing laws which took effect tonight and for the first time in years the public witnessed a ring contest without the slightest danger of police interference.

The bout, however, was somewhat of a disappointment to the large crowd which hissed both of the boxers. Jeanette started aggressively and had the better of the first two rounds and the two last, but was less clever than Flynn in the other rounds. Popular opinion was divided, with an inclination to Flynn's favor.

CAMP PERRY SHOOT

United States Marine Corps Wins—National Defense League

Camp Perry, Ohio, Aug. 29.—The ninth annual rifle team match, conducted under the auspices of the War Department, was won today by the team representing the U. S. Marine Corps with a grand aggregate over all ranges of 3,180 out of a possible 3,600 for 12-men teams.

Although the United States Infantry led the field at all ranges from the 200-yard rapid fire, the magnificent skirmish run of the Marines, in which they scored 1,085 out of a possible 1,200, gave them the victory.

The other winners in Class A, in order are:

United States Infantry with 3,118; United States Navy, 3,113, and Massachusetts 3,101.

The winners in the other classes are as follows: Class B, Kansas with 3,050; West Virginia, 3,027; Arizona, 2,978; Florida, 2,963.

The high team in Class A received the Congressional trophy; that in Class B, the Hilton trophy, and that in Class C, the Soldier of Marathon trophy.

At a mass meeting held here tonight at which there were representatives from nearly all the States and territories to the number of 500 present, the National Defense and Peace League was organized for the purpos of conducting gigantic propaganda in this country of acquainting the American people of their lack of preparedness in the event of war and of urging them to make such preparations for defense as will prevent the sending of untrained youth to war, and, by adequate preparedness, prevent war itself.

The following trustees were elected: Prof. William Libby, of New Jersey; Hon. J. C. R. Foster, of Florida; Hon. Wilder P. Metcalf, of Kansas; Hon. Robert Wankowski, of California; Hon. C. W. Parson, of Massachusetts; General John C. Bates, United States Army, retired; Hon. William E. Finzer, of Oregon; Edward T. Miller, of Ohio, and General R. K. Evans, United States Army.

"S. S. S." VICTORIOUS

Won Hair-Raising Game From Dock Street Team Yesterday

A baseball game which perhaps takes the cake for the season in local amateur ball, was played yesterday afternoon between the "Second Street Sluggers" and the "Dock Street Dandys," the game running for five innings, in which time the Sluggers succeeded in putting across just 17 runs, to six tallies by the opposition. Whitehead, the twirler for the Sluggers, struck out six men in two innings with as many pitches and also batted a home run, and Cranmer, at the receiving end, mauled out two that were good for four stations, eight runs in all being made in this inning by the victors, some game.

HIGH PRICES IN PARIS.

Women Protest in Big Procession Through the Streets.

Paris, Aug. 29.—Processions of women, some of them numbering 2,000, marched this evening in the cities and towns of Northern France, protesting against the high prices of provisions. At many places a species of anarchy prevails because the police are unable to protect the food dealers from the destructive impulses of the mobs.

The processions in some of the northern departments are marching from village to village and running over farms and damaging dairies and vegetable gardens to indicate their sense of grievance against the high cost of food.

As each village is descended upon ranks of the manifestants are steadily augmented and occasional incidents are reported of conflicts between the marauders and farmers armed with pitch forks.

(Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 29.—John E. Gunn, D. D., pastor of the Church of the Sacred Heart here, was consecrated bishop of the Roman Catholic diocese of Natchez today in the presence of a great concourse of people, including some of the highest dignitaries of the church. Archbishop Blenk, of New Orleans, was consecrator. Six other bishops attended the service.

Annual Furniture Sale

Eye-Opening Prices---Thursday, Aug. 31

We will put on in full force our Annual September Furniture Sale. As all four former sales, this is a bona fide low priced sale. No faking, no false claims, no misrepresentations to deceive the purchasing public. We are here to stay, to make good and prove every advertised article and price. Three features that should appeal to the honest buyer who is looking for honest goods from reliable home merchants.

First, We have for several seasons brought to our customers unheard of values in samples and special purchases made at the great Furniture Exposition at discounts, which enabled us to sell them to our customers at, and and sometimes below factory price. This year we were fortunate in getting a large number of very choice pieces.

Second. We never allow goods to remain on our floor to get old. We have a complete stock of regular goods which we will dispose of during this sale at actual cost to make room for our new fall stock.

Third. Our buyer has just returned from the Northern markets, where he bought largely of specials to throw in and round up and tone up the stock which will be sold during this sale, with no object of profit making—only to add ginger to the sale and make it a bigger success.

The terms are strictly cash and we trust that purchasers will not embarrass us by asking that these goods be charged at these prices. Arrangements can be made for satisfactory time purchases.

DAY'S DOINGS IN RALEIGH

Rules and Regulations for Fairs in State—Bank of Brunswick Chartered — Chloroformed and Robbed—Other News

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 29.—Commissioner of Agriculture Graham has completed a series of regulations and rules that he desires the representatives of the county and district fairs in North Carolina to adopt tomorrow during the conference of these representatives that he has called to assemble in Raleigh.

They specify the territory in which each fair shall operate in so far as the premium awards is concerned and rules for the judging of exhibits, especially of animals, corn, grains and other farm products. The specification is made that the single judge system shall prevail as far as is practicable. The rules laid down by the Department of Agriculture for the judging of corn and grains to award department premiums are specified for use in all the fairs. There are 20 fair associations invited to send delegates or arrange for representation in the conference.

The Bank of Brunswick, Southport, N. C., was chartered today for a general banking business in this seaport town at the mouth of the lower Cape Fear river. The capital is $25,000 authorized and $10,000 subscribed by W. H. Pyke, C. Ed. Taylor, Robert Ruark and others. There is also a charter for The C. B. Cheatham Co., Louisburg, capital $40,000 by L. R. Cheatham and others, for a leaf tobacco business.

C. H. Smyth, of this city, has reported to the police that he was attacked in Nash Square Saturday night, chloroformed and robbed of all the money he had, $12.50. He says that one of the two men seized him from behind and told the other to do his work quick, meaning the application of the choloroform. He says that the next thing he knew he was way out at Cameron Field, eight miles away. This was Sunday morning when he revived. He believes that for some reason his assailants carried him unconscious, to Cameron Field. The police have obtained no clue as yet.

Jno. Kelly, monotype operator for Edwards & Broughton Printing Co., who has gone for a trip to Atlantic City, has wired back to friends here that he has been robbed of $80 while he was asleep in a Pullman berth. He says railroad authorities have been notified but that he has little hope of recovering his money.

LUTHERAN MISSIONS

Second Day of Mt. Pleasant Conferences—Election of Officers

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Mt. Pleasant, N. C., Aug. 28.—The second day of the Missionary Conference was brim full of interest, with large crowds in attendance. The pace of the day as well as the spirit was set by Mrs. M. O. J. Karp, of Columbia, who led an interesting devotional and consecratody service at the opening. In the inimitable way she emphasized from appropriate scripture the transfigured life which comes from a vision of the transfigured Christ when on some mountain top with him. Consecration and prayer, the supreme means of evangelizing the world, must characterize every worker.

Routine business followed, and St. James' Concord Women's Society and St. Mark's China Young People's Society were the banner societies for the year. St. James' reported $384.84 and St. Marks' $112.50.

The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted in placing Mrs. J. A. Linn, president; Mrs. J. Q. Wertz, first vice president; Mrs. C. A. Brown, second vice president; Miss Constance Cline, third vice president; Miss Laura Efird, secretary; Miss Lizzie Van Poole, corresponding secretary; Mrs. A. W. Winecoff, treasurer. Mrs. P. M. Heilig, of Salisbury, as honorary treasurer, having been so elected when after years of faithfulness Mrs. Winecoff a few years ago became treasurer. Miss Marie Yeager was again elected secretary of the Y. P. Societies in recognition of her fitness and former service, and Mrs. V. Y. Boozer was placed at the head of the children's work, which she has carried to a high efficiency since the resignation of Mrs. R. C. Holian, former secretary. Much gratification was expressed at the re-election of Mrs. J. A. Linn and much regret at the loss of Miss Mattie Miller, for three years the most efficient and painstaking secretary. Miss Miller refused a renomination because of inability to continue the work.

At 11 A. M. Rev. R. L. Patterson, D. D., of Charlotte, president of the Board of Home Missions, presented what was generally considered the strongest plea for Home Missions that has ever been heard on the floor of the Women's Convention. In a graphic and telling way he presented the field and emphasized the need of men to fill the urgent calls. Said the "Mothers, God does not want your money if you have better to give. He wants your money if that is the best. But if you have a son and are holding him back from the great work, thy money perish with thee." And many went out to noon refreshments thinking.

The noon hour was conducted by Rev. A. J. Stirevalt, missionary to Japan, and many knowing his consecretion to the work felt the call strong to give themselves to the work of the kingdom. The afternoon was devoted to children's and young people's work. Miss Yeager conducted devotional exercises and then Mrs. Boozer and Miss Yeager rendered reports, which were very edifying and highly encouraging. Four new children's societies have been organized and fourteen new Y. P. societies.

Congressman Godwin Talks of Congress—Washington News.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Washington, D. C., Aug. 29.—Representative Hannibal L. Godwin, of the Sixth North Carolina District, is very enthusiastic over the work accomplished by the Democrats in the extraordinary session of the 62nd Congress, which came to a close last week. In reviewing the work, Mr. Godwin points to the fact that the Democrats in the House redeemed every promise made before election, and, he says, have paved the way for carrying the National election in 1912. In an interview issued today, Mr. Godwin says:

"The extra session of Congress just closed, in my opinion, resulted in a great harvest for the Democratic party, and the record made by the Democrats in the House has greatly surprised our friends and disappointed our enemies. New life has been injected into the party. The Democrats have stood together upon all important questions. The opposition party thought we would go to pieces, but they were mistaken. We have been together all the time and we will be together in the compangn next year, which will result in sweeping the country.

"We redeemed every promise and the way has been paved for carrying the election of 1912. We passed the reciprocity bill, the wool bill, the farmers' free list bill, the cotton bill, with Senate amendments providing for the revision of the iron and steel schedule, and also the chemical schedule. We submitted constitutional amendments providing for the election of United States Senators by the people; we passed a bill providing for campaign publicity before and after election; we liberalized the rules of the House and put an end to Cannonism."

Mr. Godwin points out that the measures passed by the Democrats had as their object to relieve the common people of tariffs which have been condemned by both parties and by Mr. Taft himself. He says that the tariff board has no authority to get data, compel witnesses to appear or to have books produced. "Therefore, the board is vainly trying to ascertain the alleged difference in the cost of production at home and abroad," continued Mr. Godwin. "But, in arriving at the cost of production at home it is compelled to rely upon such data as may be furnished to it by the men who are interested in the present law. The reports of the tariff board made in the past have been severely criticised and but little weight will be given to its future efforts."

Representative Godwin has established a most enviable record in Congress. He is not a man who makes a speech every day, but he does keep at work for his district and State. During the last session of Congress he has been very active in securing surveys for drainage in his district, and has met with much success along this line.

As chairman of the Committee on Reform in the Civil Service, Mr. Godwin has conducted investigations that were so fair that none could complain. He had a number of President Taft's cabinet officers summoned before him who gave testimony as to the working of their respective departments and also the leading labor leaders of the country, including President Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor.

Major and Mrs. W. H. Wilder, of Omaha, Neb., are visiting their sister, Mrs. J. S. Tomlinson, on Vermont avenut. Major Wilder formerly lived at Louisburg and is prominently connected in North Carolina. He is now stationed at St. Paul, Minn.

Dr. Wade H. Atkinson, a native of Selma, Ala., now one of the most prominent physicians in the District of Columbia, has been appointed chairman of the Medical Committee during the celebration and reception which will be tendered by members of the Kallipolis Grotto, Mystic Order of the Veiled Prophet, September 25th.

Big Revival in Progress—Crop Notes and Personals.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Maxton,, N. C., Aug. 29.—The series of meetings that have been planned by the Ministerial Association of this place opened last night in St. Paul's Methodist Church. Rev. Wilson, of Portsmouth, Va., who is to preach during the meetings, preached a powerful sermon. The meetings will last for two or three weeks and are under the auspices of the Baptist, Methodist and Presbyterian churches.

Prof. R. L. Thompson, superintendent of the Maxton Graded School, has returned. The school building and grounds are being put in readiness for the opening of the school which is to open September 6th.

The town and community is laying aside the Summer indifference to work, and with the cooler days that are already here is preparing for the busy Fall season. While only one bale of cotton has been sold here, some of the fields are full of cotton pickers. The crops are very spotted, some excellent ones and some exceedingly poor ones being found in close proximity.

Although the community already countains a large number of automobiles, large shipments are being received and quickly sold. The automobile dealers here say that the season will be the best the automobile business has ever seen.

Mr. J. S. McRae is erecting a handsome home on South Florence street. This will be one of the largest and handsomest residences in town.——The house of Mr. Bascomb Ashley on McCaskill avenue, is nearing completion.

The Bank of Robeson, which is being build in the triangle next the Maple Shade Inn, is a small "Flatiron" and is quite a handsome building. The Bank of Robeson expects to move into its new quarters about the first of October.

Many people are returning from the mountains and other Summer resorts. Mrs. Sue McRae, Miss Emma Belle McRae and Miss Kate Sutherland returned home from Asheville Friday night.——Miss Sallie Lou McKinnon returned from Balsam Saturday night.——Mr. J. W. Carter has returned from New York, where he has been for the past two weeks buying his Fall and Winter stock.——Mr. Howard McNair and daughters, Miss Lillian and Miss Elizabeth, are in New York City.

BIG PICNIC NEAR WILLARD.

Basket Dinner and Good Roads Rally on Thursday—The Speakers.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Burgaw, N. C., Aug. 29.—It is expected that an immense crowd will gather on Thursday of this week at the home of ex-Sheriff E. M. Johnston, one and a half miles from Willard, for a big basket picnic and good roads rally that is to be held there on that day. There is a beautiful grove at the home of ex-Sheriff Johnston and people from all over Pender county are expected. It was hoped that Dr. Jos. Hyde Pratt, of Chapel Hill, would be present to make an address, but a telegram just received here states that he will be unable to return from Connecticut in time to attend. There will, however, be a number of good speakers, including Hon. John M. Faison, Congressman from the Third district, and the people of the entire county are asked to come out and hear them. The train schedules are very convenient for people who desire to attend and a great day is in prospect for those who take the trip.

Boston, Aug. 29.—The national independent political rights league held public services today in the room at the old court house where Anthony Burns was kept the night his rescue was attempted in 1854. An address was delivered by E. H. Clement. An address by Bishop Alexander Walters was on the public meeting programme.

CURE FOR SUMMER COMPLAINT

At no time of the year are the bowels put to a severer test than during the hot weather. Thousands become afflicted with "summer complaint," or running off of the bowels. The cause very often lies in the drinking of impure water, the eating of unripe fruit or tainted food. But whatever the cause it is useless to try to cure the trouble with an astringent remedy, an opiate, or salts and such things. The bowels need not only a thorough cleaning out, but the stomach needs strengthening and toning, so that they may have a new start. All this is best obtained by the use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is a great stomach, liver and bowel cleanser. It will quickly stop the unnatural passages, which are so weakening and give rise to vertigo. Thousands of families are using it steadily and thereby avoid all digestive troubles summer and winter. Buy a 50 cent or $1.00 bottle today of your druggist and you will be surprised at the quick and lasting effects. You will find it a mild, gentle laxative, agreeable to young and old. Those who have never tried it can obtain a SAMPLE FOR A TEST FREE OF CHARGE by sending their address to

Where is the old-fashioned woman who hid her money in a mattress so somebody could get at the wad and go off on an excursion?

The fellow who is always ready to state that he heard somebody else say that he heard something that happened, is liable at any time to bring on a collapse of veracity.

President Taft is going to depend on the Tariff Board to get him out of the hole, he may as well begin at once to practice some graceful way of walking the plank.

The trouble about most men at the pie counter is that they cannot regard their own presence there as anything to be compared with the scramble which brought others to the feed trough.

President Taft says he is going to attack the Democrats and Insurgents. Well, we should say he has to do something, for at the present time the coalition has him surrounded and his retreat cut off.

Fayetteville goes right on being located where she can be a city by herself, without fear of others being able to compete with her in her natural advantages of being the head of navigation on the Cape Fear. Fayetteville is one of your cities with a logical location for a growing city.

The Richmond Journal observes: "What is a normal crop is a question that has been aroused by the wide dissatisfaction in regard to the crop reporting methods of the United States Agricultural Department." Guess what it is. Probably a normal crop means a good average crop year after year.

The Greensboro News makes the remark that "the Lorimer investigation must have struck a frost somewhere." It really got a roast but will come back with the frost. However, Senator Lorimer adjourned at the same time Congress did, and for the present he isn't talking any more than Col. Roosevelt is doing.

Very little is said about the $20,000,000 deficit of the United States treasury at the beginning of the year. However, a little thing like that never worries a Republican who is satisfied that Republican administrations know all about finance and are afraid to trust Democrats who always leave a surplus for Republicans to spend.

Says the Greenville Reflector: "Little things sometimes count. A man in New York was saved from being killed by the flattening on his back collar button of a bullet fired at him from the rear." Of course, it was lucky for the gentleman that he turned his collar button to the enemy. Evidently he was going to seek safety by flight, but his luck was with him when he decided not to face the enemy and get it in the neck.

Says a dispatch from Beverly: "President Taft will promise tariff reform so far as he can bring it about at the next session. "Gee! Why didn't he do it at the extra session when the crowd would have been with him and made it easy without any "promise?" How many times does President Taft expect the people to gulp down "promises short as pie crust?" The people's maw is full of his other promises and they have a bad case of indigestion on account of broken promises and shattered hopes. About the poorest diet the body politic ever had was the Tariff Board washed with oleaginous promises. President Taft must take us people for a blooming lot of ostriches.

DIRECT FOREIGN TRADE.

Who recollects the day when Richmond once did a direct export and import business with foreign countries, especially on certain lines, and extended her jobbing trade into many Southern States? We remember the day when you couldn't turn around in the Carolinas without butting into a Richmond drummer. You could always tell one of those Richmond commercial travelers from the air of confidence he wore, for they were so self-assertive and had such a good thing that Richmond drummers bordered on the bumptious.

When a Richmond drummer butted in to drive a deal on what was known as "heavy groceries", all competitors had to take to the woods. In fact, there was nothing doing for them, except perhaps, it was a Baltimore drummer, for in those days the Monumental City had a Southern trade which nobody could take all at once. Most every fellow you saw with a grip was a Richmond or a Baltimore drummer, and nine times out of ten the fellow from Richmond had a look about him that indicated pity for drummers from some of the largest cities in the country. We recall this because of the following from the Richmond Journal, of August 28th:

"A shipment of American flour is about to arrive at Florianopolis, in the State of Santa Catharina. It will be the first American flour to be received there in many years, that part of Brazil until now, having bought exclusively Argentine flour. The change is due to the reduction in the tariff. The above facts are contained in a cablegram from Rio Janeiro via Galveston, Texas, to the New York Herald, and, of course, is an important piece of news for this country, which raises much more wheat and manufactures much more flour than it uses at home. There are men now living in Richmond who can recall the time when the mills of Richmond furnished all the flour that was used in Brazil and a large part of South America.

"The flour made in these mills from Virginia wheat had a peculiarly good keeping quality that stood the long sea voyage by sailing ships better than any other flour made, and for that reason was in great demand. The great master millers of Richmond were giants in those days. They owned and managed a line of fast clipper ships, which ran between the port of Richmond on the James to Rio Janeiro, Brazil, and other South American ports. They carried cargoes of Richmond ground flour to that country and returned laden with coffee. Richmond was then a great coffee market, some say the largest in the world. When the ships would come in merchants from New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore would come in to make purchases, and there were busy scenes on the wharves at Rocketts, long since gone into decay. Those were proud days for Richmond, days that are gone, but they may not be forever. This trade vanished with the advent of the great war between the States, but who can say it may not be brought back? With docking facilities, a deepened channel for the larger ships now in use, Richmond would be in a position to invite it again. We have the men and we have the money, too, but alas, there is not a single dock at which a ship may lay its weatherbeaten beams. Is it that we are lacking in the energy and enterprise that marked the careers of our ante-bellum millers?"

The period to which we allude was not ante-bellum, but it was long after the Civil War. Richmond had a tremendous jobbing trade throughout the Carolinas that we know of and in what other States we are not aware. However, we do know that Richmond had them all going on coffee, sugar, meat, salt, flour, molasses, etc., but we never knew before the Journal informed us, just how Richmond managed to do it. We were young, but we remember that the Richmond drummers used to make prices and say that it was because Richmond imported stuff in bulk and handled such enormous quantities of goods. Now we realize that it was because Richmond had the enterprise to employ ships and do an export and import business direct, as is told us by the Journal. Just why it is ancient history or tradition now is what we cannot understand.

We rather think, however, that along about that time the transportation system of this country was revolutionized, for it was just about then that the now great railway systems were forming and adopting transportation methods that "bottled up" many cities, to employ the term once used when a town's independent or competing lines were "gobbled up", as the saying went.

Of course, Richmond and Baltimore are still in it, and the extent to which they are to develop their trade in the future depends upon the enterprise and initiative of their merchants, and their knowledge of the conditions entering into the inevitable factor of competition. We observe that water transportation was what did the work for Richmond, and coupled with that was the commercial prowess that led Richmond merchants into owning their own vessels and exchanging products and commodities with other countries and other States.

We see no reason why such places as Wilmington and other ports could not get a move on them, and start something that will result in a commercial surprise. A whole lot of things can be done if we will undertake them. The South's old business men used to be full of enterprise and daring. They built railroads from the jump, formulated and entered upon marvelous navigation schemes, established great manufacturing enterprises, engaged in great mercantile undertakings, and founded the great South upon which we are building. How much greater we could build if we could only persuade ourselves that it can be done. We are doing fairly well, it is true, but can't we give a little more scope to our genius and enterprise?

FOR THE GAPING CROWD

President Taft is on the defensive and he acknowledges it. He sees he is up against it and he now proposes to meet the situation with bravado for the gaping crowd. He thought to himself he would smile it off and pussy-foot his way out of the difficulties of his administration. However, those difficulties are multitudious and they seem to grow. Nevertheless, he may continue to wear the smile that won't come off but he has found out that he will have to abandon the cat-like tread with which he thought he could walk away with the cake.

In his speech to the Essex Republican Club, at Hamilton, Ohio, last week, he sounded the key-note of the campaign. He made bold declarations, for he now realizes that he may as well strike out with vigor instead of using soft solder, although one will do him just about as much good as the other. He attacked the Democrats, for surely that is the only way to muddy the waters in order that the cuttle fish may escape. He won't get off with the attack, however, for Champ Clark has the Taft record down fine, and pity 'tis to unfold it and confuse so clever a man as President Taft.

However, Mr. Taft as a man is one thing and his giratory and zigzag administration is another. It is spotted all over with inconsistencies, the scandal marks are everywhere and its weakness is apparent despite the bold attitude to be assumed by the President in the face of a campaign in which he has to explain. Yea, apologize!

Explanations are certainly due, and the President has made up his mind to deliver them to the gaping crowd in the midst of thunder and lightning. According to The Star's Beverly dispatch in yesterday's paper, it is announced that "so far as the President is concerned, the tariff will be main issue of the 1912 campaign." He needn't bother himself about that. The Democrats made it the issue in 1910 and they won on it. It wasn't settled for the reason that Taft spoiled the broth, so it remains an open question to be settled finally in 1912 by the election of a Democratic President and a Congress not controlled by the representatives of the interests which presume that the government is for them instead of the people.

Now it is announced that Mr. Taft is said to realize that he must not merely defend himself for having rejected bills passed in the interest of the masses, "but that he must attack the Democrats and Progressive Republicans who put them through Congres." Sure, Mike! Explanations won't cut much ice unless they are accompanied by an "attack," so we see that reciprocity is not "Taft's only hope," but it is to be supplemented by explanations and a well concocted attack to weaken the faith of the people in the Democrats and Progressive Republicans!

Yes, the President is going to explain, and defend, and attack. It will take all three to do the work and then some, for the record of the Taft administration is indefensible by any manner of sophistry that may be interlarded while the attack is going on. The fact is, the Democrats and Progressive Republicans must be attacked. That is the only way to destroy them and ultimately prevent them from restoring the government to the people. Democrats and Progressives constitute a dangerous coalition and if it is kept up they will snatch the government from the hands of special interests, plundering plutocrats, and machiavelian marplots.

"President Taft will hear from me, for I am not going after him with hammer and tongs," declares Speaker Clark. The "attack" is welcomed by the Democrats and Progressives, and they will make a nice mess of the Presidential dope that will be handed out to gaping crowds on that November "swing around the circle."

There's to be an "attack" and there's to be a "fight." Let the fight proceed to the finish, with the people on one side and the fat-fryers on the other. On with the fight! Lay on McDuffer! But rehearse a loud cry for the calf rope, for there will be need of it to be dangled in a sepulchral hole from which there is little hope of escape from the sovereign will of an aroused people.

THE STORM AT CHARLESTON

Wilmington deeply sympathizes with Charleston over the disastrous results of Sunday's storm. The Star has already carried the news, and while our sister city will not a great while suffer to any serious extent, we regret that even incidentally there should come along so unwelcome a visitor as a West India hurricane.

Especially does The Star feel sensibly the disaster to the mechanical equipment of the Charleston Evening Post, which was temporarily put out of business. However, the Post people, by reason of the enterprise and pluck of its publishers and staff, issued a storm edition of the paper. That was made possible by the courtesy of the Charleston News and Courier which tendered its typographic and press facilities to its local contemporary. The Post says: "The News and Courier generously turned over its establishment to the Evening Post," and for that display of generosity it thanks its "friend and neighbor" for its "splendid spirit in this time of distress." It is hardly worth while to mention it, for the Charleston News and Courier is a great newspaper and its courtesy is only what could have been expected of the broad gauge morning paper.

Both of our esteemed contemporaries carried splendid accounts of the storm. The News and Courier with its accustomed enterprise and thoroughness, covered the disaster with a most comprhensive and thrilling chronicle, showing that even in the midst of baffling elements it is equal to the occasion. In an editorial yesterday the News and Courier says:

"The more general opinion in Charleston yesterday was that the hurricane which struck this city Sunday night was more terrible so far as Charleston and its immediate vicinity are concerned than that of August 27, 1893, just eighteen years before. Police officers and pilots who experienced both storms persisted in this view, even when the figures were cited showing that the tide in 1893 rose several inches higher than on last Sunday night and that the wind at one time in the hurricane of 1893 was reported to have attained a velocity of 120 miles the hour; whereas the maximum velocity of the wind during the present hurricane was 93 miles. The damage wrought by the present storm is generally estimated to be considerably greater than that of the last great hurricane which bore down upon Charleston in its wrath."

A storm like that which visited Charleston is likely at any time to swoop down on any coast city, especially one which is actually on the sea like Charleston. Charleston has great natural advantages, which the News and Courier emphasizes, and it will be found that a million dollar property loss will be only a temporary incident in her progress. As for itself, Charleston is all right, but the sad part of it is that the storm took its human toll in the loss of several lives.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Somebody has counted up and found that beginning with two bills vetoed by Washington, something more than 500 bills have been returned to Congress without the executive approval by the twenty-seven presidents of the United States. Of these, President Cleveland vetoed 343. Of the lot no two were followed by the political consequences that threaten to result from Mr. Taft's vetoes of the wool and free list bills.—Savannah News.

We are going forward in building and extending railroads in North Carolina. Mr. John Blue, a captain of industry who has developed one of the finest sections of country in North Carolina, will extend his Rockfish and Aberdeen Railroad to Fayetteville. "The completion of the road to this point," says the Fayetteville Observer, "will put Fayetteville on a direct line to Raeford and Aberdeen, and from Aberdeen through to Charlotte and points south via the Seaboard Air Line."—Raleigh News and Observer.

Under the above caption the Wilmington Star discusses interestingly the possibilities along the line of deepening Lumber river for navigation and what it would mean for Lumberton and this entire section. The more the Robesonian thinks of Senator Simmons' bill the more it likes it. He is undoubtedly on the right track. Besides the other benefits to be derived from deepening this river for navigation it would make the drainage problem in Robeson easy of solution.—Lumberton Robesonian.

The quadrennial prediction of breaking the Solid South has again made its appearance. The Washington Post asks: "Which state shall be the first to bring about the long-standing prophecy that when the South split it would do so as the result of differences of opinion upon economic question." It is easy to answer when the solid South will be broken by the Republican party. It will never break until there is a funeral of nine-tenths of the present leaders of the Republican party and the other tenth formally retire from politics and give bond never to enter it again. —Raleigh News and Observer

Gov. Wilson may take comfort from the reports of Sydney Brooks and others that one of his most ardent admirers is Mr. Roosevelt. This is given color by the fact that the Outlook, of which Mr. Roosevelt is the distinguished contributing editor, prints a glowing eulogy of Wilson, setting forth, with evident commendation, his record and his views. With the Democrats in Congress cheering for Champ Clark, the New Yorkers lining up behind Harmon and various elements backing Wilson, we are promised an interesting contest when the Democrats meet in convention in Baltimore next Summer to choose their candidate for President.—Baltimore Sun.

In fighting to keep the blood pure the white corpuscles attack disease germs like tigers. But often germs multiply so fast the little fighters are overcome. Then see pimples, boils, eczema, salt-rheum and sores multiply and strength and appetite fail. REGULAR WEEKLY MEETING

City Council Considers Routine Matters—Another Resolution as to Treatment of Charity Patients at Hospital.

Aside from the consideration of the sewerage question, as told of in another column, the City Council had but little of any general interest to claim its attention in regular weekly session yesterday afternoon. Mayor Joseph D. Smith presided and in attendance were all members except Councilman W. E. Perdew, who has not returned from a ten days' trip North; present also were City Attorney Herbert McClammy; Assistant City Attorney Geo. L. Peschau; Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt, city superintendent of health, and Capt. Thos. D. Meares, the clerk.

Mayor Smith stated that Rev. Geo. W. Moore, pastor of Central Baptist Church, corner Seventh and Red Cross streets, desired the Councilmen and other city officials attend the opening session tonight of a big colored missionary convention to be held at his church. It might be stated in this connection that the address of welcome is to be delivered by Mayor Smith.

An anonymous communication, said to have been written by Mr. W. J. Hart, southeast corner Fifth and Wooster streets, vigorously protesting against the sanitary closet was received and read. Complaint was made of the bad odor from the cans and the writer predicted an epidemic of fever or cholera or both unless conditions improved. Flies, he said, are worse than in the Summer time. Councilman B. C. Moore said he did not feel yet that a mistake had been made in requiring the use of the sanitary closet, that the kicks for the most part have been from people who do not want to go to the expense of buying the cans. Councilman Tiencken did not appear to be so favorably impressed with the new arrangement. Councilman P. Q. Moore said that he had been told that the odor emanating from the cans is awful. Dr. Nesbitt said that the arrangement is but a makeshift at best, but that if the owners will carry out the instructions of the health officers they will have no trouble with the cans. Mayor Smith told of an instance where the scavengers removed the cans late in the afternoon and another member said that three negro women reported that cans had been removed from their premises in the day time. There is a law which prohibits scavenger work except from 11 P. M. to 4 A. M. It was decided to endeavor to see that the law is enforced. The discussion led to a matter which some of the members did not care to consider at that meeting—the question of scavenger contract. In order to get away from the subject, the unsigned communication was referred to the sanitary department.

A letter was read from Mr. John H. Kuck, treasurer of the Carolina Metal Products Co., again asking for a hard road to the proposed plant of the company in the southern section of the city and extension of a water main to the plant. Mr. Kuck wants a hard road on Sixth from Wright street out, a distance of six blocks. The Council is inclined to build a road, but may select another route, which would require the construction of only three blocks. Upon motion of Councilman B. C. Moore, the clerk was instructed to write Mr. Kuck that the Council will build a road to the plant when it is completed, the route to be determined later.

Bids were opened and read for shoeing the fire and police horses. There were only two, one from the D. Quinlivan Co., and the other from Thos. Quinlivan & Son. The prices being the same, it was ordered that the work be divided between the two bidders.

A Second Request.

Following the refusal of the hospital authorities to grant the request of the Council that the city superintendent of health or his assistant be permitted to attend charity patients sent to the institution by the health department, where a request for the services of the city physician is made, a resolution was adopted as follows:

"Be it resolved by the Council of the City of Wilmington:

"That the Board of Managers of the James Walker Memorial Hospital be officially requested to permit any patient who shall be admitted to the James Walker Memorial Hospital, the expense of whose treatment and subsistence is provided for from the public funds, shall have the privilege of securing consultation with any physician who is registered in the State of North Carolina and the county of New Hanover at any time during his or her illness in the hospital, and further, that any such patient as described above may have the privilege of having any registered physician of this State and county operate upon him or her or be present when such operation is performed, provided such physician shall be willing to perform this service without compensation.

"B. C. MOORE,
"Councilman in Charge of Department of Public Safety."

The proposed new screen ordinance went over until a subsequent meeting, as did the ordinance regulating the operation of street cars in the city. The meeting adjourned shortly before 6 o'clock.

Will Open Bids Today

The City Council will hold a special meeting at 12 o'clock today for the purpose of opening bids for $100,000 worth of street improvement bonds voted four or five years ago. Only one bid had been received yesteday, but it was expected that others would come in on the night trains and probably some on the morning train today, besides it is not unlikely that some of the local financial institutions will make offers. This is the second $100,000 of the $400,000 bond issue for streets voted a few years ago. Nearly all the money of the first $100,000 is still in the city treasury, but it will go in a hurry when the permanent street gets well under way.

IN THE RECORDER'S COURT

Charles Hopkins Tried on Charge of Disorderly Conduct at Yesterday's Session—Judgment Reserved Until Thursday

After a number of postponements the case charging Chas. Hopkins, a young white man, with disorderly conduct, was reached in the Recorder's court yesterday morning and after one of the hardest fought trials that has been threshed out in the county tribunal for some time His Honor reserved his decision until another case against Hopkins and Mrs. Sophie Daniels jointly, charging them with being common nuisances, could be heard. This case was set for Thursday morning.

A number of witnesses testified, among them Hopkins and Mrs. Daniels. She testified that she is engaged to be married to Hopkins.

On the witness stand Hopkins stated that he had a wife and one child at Hampton, Va., and that he entered suit for divorce six months ago in Norfolk. He testified that he came from Norfolk three years ago; that previous to leaving Norfolk he ran a cafe there. Hopkins stated that he engaged in the repair business on coming here and that he also built a boat and worked on it about nine months; that he made several hundred dollars in this manner. Asked where he got the money to finance this enterprise he stated that it came from the American and the Murchison Banks, and denied having obtained it from Gussie Greer, an inhabitant of the Wilmington underworld. Witness declared that he had never gotten any money from the woman. He was questioned about his relations with a young lady from South Carolina, who is Mrs. Daniels' niece or cousin. He declared that he did not know her, and stated that he had not taken her to a disreputable house.

He further testified that he had never been in jail; that he lived off his in come, that he operated the Wilmington Carriage Works about 18 months; that he had some money on deposit in the American National Bank. He denied ever having borrowed any money from Mrs. Daniels or having handled any for her. Cross-examined by his counsel he stated that he expected to get a divorce in October.

He was also questioned as to a threat he is alleged to have made against Officer J. T. Smith of the police department, and stated that he made no threat although he went to see Mr. Smith about a derogatory remark that the officer is alleged to have made about Mrs. Daniels.

Mrs. Sohpie Daniels testified that she is the daughter of Mr. George Zeigler; that she is 34 years old and has five children. She testified that she told Hopkins that Officer Smith said she ran a disorderly house, and that she accompanied Hopkins to the officer's home. She testified that she expected to marry Hopkins later; that she had heard very little concerning his alleged relations with Gussie Greer, and that he had never spoken to her of them.

Several other witnesses testified in the case, and after ruling that the prosecution could not introduce another witness after the case had been closed, Recorder Furlong reserved his decision until after the joint charge against Mrs. Daniels and Hopkins has been heard Thursday.

The defendant was represented by Hon. Jno. D. Bellamy & Son, while Assistant City Attorney Geo. L. Peschau, A. G. Ricaud, and Wm. J. Bellamy, Esqs., appear for the prosecution.

A number of minor cases concluded the docket yesterday. Maggie Bentley, white, was charged with disorderly conduct. She was fined $10 and costs, while a nol pros with leave was taken in a vagrancy charge against her.

Ralph Evans, colored, was found guilty of carrying a concealed weapon. He was relieved of $15 and the costs.

The so-called dog ordinance was again instrumental in bringing in a number of dog owners charged with not providing a license tag for their canines. In the cases against W. W. Hodges, white, and James Burke and John Whiteman, colored, nol prosses with leave were taken, while the charges against H. B. Coler and C. M. Franklin, white, and Tom Hayes, colored, were dismissed.

The case charging W. G. Baldwin, white, of Castle Haynes, with violating the State prohibition law, was set for hearing September 8th. This case was remanded to the Recorder from the Superior Court. There are three cases against Mr. Baldwin.

INDIGNATION MEETING

Will Protest Against Sanitary Closets Thursday Night

Representing, he says, a large number of the citizens of the city, Mr. J. W. West asks that mention be made of a mass meeting to be held at the Court House Thursday night for the purpose of discussing the recent action of the City Council in adopting an ordinance requiring the installation of what is called a sanitary closet. It is said that other matters relative to the city government will be discussed and that the gathering will resolve itself into a sort of indignation meeting. A special invitation is extended through Mr. West to Dr. Chas T Nesbitt, city superintendent of health, and the Mayor and Councilmen to be present at the meeting. He also urges the attendance of all classes and conditions of citizens. The meeeting will be held at 8 o'clock and will either be inside the Court House or just outside. Mr. West said the use of the Court House had been tendered, but that an open-air meeting may be preferable.

Death of a Child.

Barton Robinson, the six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Robinson, of Mollie, Columbus county, died yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the James Walker Memorial Hospital after an illness of only a few days' duration. The remains were taken to the home yesterday evening and the funeral will be held at 3 P. M. today at the family burying ground at Mollie.

Ask those who use it. Seven Springs Mineral Water. **

RECEIVED THE ULTIMATUM

Final Proposition of Sewerage Co., Submitted to City Council—Settlement of the Question in Sight.

For the first time in open meeting since the change of administration the sewerage question was given earnest consideration for a short time yesterday afternoon by the City Council and if one is to judge by the tenor of the remarks of the Councilmen, settlement is now in sight. Action on the propositions of the Wilmington Sewerage Co., was postponed until next Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock on account of the absence from the city of Councilman W. E. Perdew, head of the Water and Sewerage Department.

The Mayor remarked, and the other members did not dissent, that at the meeting next Tuesday the question will be finally settled; that the Council will decide whether or not it will purchase the existing plant; if it is decided to purchase, then determine which of the several propositions of the company will be accepted.

The ultimatum of the Wilmington Sewerage Co., or rather, the bondholders of the company, was received at the meeting, this coming in the way of an answer to the counter proposition of the city submitted at a recent meeting. The importance of taking some action right away was emphasized when Councilman P. Q. Moore reminded Council that he will be ready to begin the Front street improvement the latter part of September or first of October. As it is desired to finally settle the sewerage question before beginning this work, the Councilmen agreed to get busy on the proposition and dispose of it at the meeting next week. They showed more interest in the matter than at any time since they took hold of the city government.

The bondholders flatly decline to consider the counter proposition of the city, but did submit a modified proposition, which, however, may not be as acceptable as the original, which also still holds. The bondholders have agreed to sell to the city the existing plant at $160,000; or submit to arbitration; or furnish the city a completed plant by enlarging the present system, which would be put in at $160,000, the city to pay for the same in convenient installments. The modified proposition, in accordance with a request of some of the citizens, is with regard to the last proposition in the order in which they offer above. The bondholders agree to arbitrate the value of the plant, under this proposition, provided the arbitrators are instructed to take into consideration value of plant, physical and commercial; the fact that city is not to pay cash, and also the relative value of the existing system in connection with the enlarged plant; and will not agree to furnish the city more than $350,000 under this proposition, including the price fixed by the arbitrators upon the existing system.

Councilman P. Q. Moore said that the third proposition as modified is all right to him except with regard to the $350,000 limit. Councilman B. C. Moore agreed with him in this. Councilman Tiencken was in favor of settling the matter then and there by purchasing the plant outright for $160,000, arguing that to do so would be to the best interests of the city in the long run. Mayor Smith said that he wanted to get the matter settled, but did not want to act in the absence of Councilman Perdew. So it was agreed to finally consider and definitely decide the matter next Tuesday afternoon.

Sewerage Company's Reply.

The reply of the bondholders of the Wilmington Sewerage Company was submitted to Council through Iredell Meares, Esq., their attorney. The reply follows:

"August 24, 1911.

"To the Council of the City of Wilmington.

"Gentlemen:—I have been directed by my clients to amend the first of the three propositions heretofore submitted to you by the Wilmington Sewerage Company and its bondholders. I take it that the second and third propositions, offering to sell our present plant at a price to be agreed or arbitrated, have been eliminated from your consideration because of lack of funds with which to purchase. We make therefore the following proposition, the only difference in this and a similar proposition formally submitted being the insertion of that part here set out in paragraph seven.

"The company will build a completed system of sewerage for your city, which will incorporate the present system, by plans to be laid out by a first-class and well known sewer engineer, mutually to be agreed upon, or by plans by him to be approved. The completed system to be extended wherever water mains are now laid, so as to admit of its use, and to be so arranged in its extended main lines as to admit of further extension in the future as they may be needed and desired. The plans, of course, to be approved by the State Board of Health, as the law directs.

"2. The present plant is to be incorporated in the enlarged system at the valuation of $160,000.

"(The present bonded indebtedness of the company is $150,000, and its unsecured indebtedness is $145,000. The unsecured indebtedness was incurred in extension of the plant, maintenance and interest on its bonds. We do not believe that our existing plant could be built, at this time, at less than $200,000, consisting, as it does, of about 23 miles of mains and 10 miles of laterals. The above indebtedness will be, of course, retired by the company.)

"3. The company will issue a new series of bonds, running 40 years, 5 per cent., interest payable semi-annually, with the provision for a sinking fund, after five years, to be prorated for the remaining tetrm of 35 years. The aggregate of this new series of bonds will be such an amount as will be sufficient to pay at par the $160,000 for the plant, and the actual cost of the additional sewers. All work will be done under the supervision of the engineer to be mutually selected and the actual cost to be approved and certified by him.

"4. The company and its bondholders, who will undertake to provide the means to complete the system upon the approval and acceptance of the completed system by the authorities of the city, will then sell the entire plant to the city for an annual rental to be paid, equivalent to interest on bonded indebtedness and $10,000 per annum after five years, for the sinking fund, to retire the bonds. This annual sum to be deposited with a trustee to pay the interest on the bonds and for the sinking fund, which shall be invested in the bonds or applied to retiring them. The city to get a title, subject only to the outstanding bonds, but free from all other encumbrances. The city to take possession of, maintain and operate the plant, and to receive for its own use the income at such rates as it may fix.

"5. The city, when the system is completed, approved, and accepted, shall make it the public system and to exercise its police power to have all closets of residences or stores along the route of the sewer connected with the system. This the city can do, as it will own the system, subject only to the outstanding bonds.

"6. The present rates for the use of the sewer, which are said to be lower than elsewhere, if maintained, would yield the city from 5,000 connections, which could be had from the extended system, at $6.00 per annum, about $30,000 annually, which would pay the annual installments to the company, as proposed, and eventually the plant would pay for itself by gradually retiring the bonds.

"7. If the value of the plant at a $160,000, under this proposition, is not acceptable, then, we will agree to arbitrate its value at which it is to be incorporated in the enlarged system proposed; but, if we are to arbitrate the value of the plant, under this proposition, then our obligation to furnish additional funds for new construction work must be limited to $350,000, including the arbitrated price at which the present plant is to be incorporated. Two experts to be selected, one each by either side, and these two to select, if necessary, in their discretion, a third. These experts must not have been associated directly or indirectly with either side and are not to be subsequently employed in connection with work done under the agreement, except by consent. Neither side to make a selection objectionable to the other for any good reason. The experts shall be sanitary engineers of professional experience and reputation. At their first meeting the Council of the city and the counsel of the bondholders may state before the arbitrators the respective contentions of their clients. The arbitrators shall then proceed in their own way to determine the questions involved. Either side to agree to furnish all information possible to the arbitrators which they may call upon it to do. The arbitrators are to determine what is the fair value of the present plant at which to be incorporated under this proposition taking into consideration all elements of value, physical and commercial, and the fact that their award is to determine, not a cash consideration to be paid, but a value to be fixed upon which it is to be incorporated in the larger system to be built under this proposition.

"8. The bonds to be issued by the company, which will be limited under this proposition to $350,000, are to be sold at the best price obtainable and the proceeds first applied to the payment at the arbitrated price for the present plant and the balance will go to the payment of the actual cost of construction, including all expenses necessary and incidental to the work, as far only as it will go, in the building of additional sewers.

"9. The terms and conditions of the bonds and mortgage, which we consider a matter of detail are to be made satisfactory to the committee of bondholders in order to meet the usual requirements as to negotiable securities of the bond market in the commercial centers.

"10. The preliminary arrangements will be made at once, if this proposition is accepted as soon as the legal papers may be drawn and the actual construction of the work will begin as soon thereafter as the company may be allowed to break ground.

"Respectfully submitted,
"IREDELL MEARES,
"Attorney for Bondholders' Com."

MANY MARINE CASUALTIES

Fury of Storm Along Carolina and Georgia Coasts Reflected in Number of Vessels Arriving in Distress—Tugs Busy

The fury of the northeast storm which raged along the South Carolina and Georgia coasts Sunday and yesterday were reflected in the number of marine casualties reported yesterday at Southport, following which all the harbor tugs and pilot boats were busy all day and far into last night. Vessels in distress continued to arrive all day at Southport and at Wilmington and the same story comes from the ports of Charleston and Savannah, as is told in the telegraphic dispatches elsewhere in today's paper.

A wireless early yesterday morning from one of the Clyde Liners at sea via Charleston and Augusta to the United States Revenue Cutter Seminole, at her wharf in this city, sent that ship at once to the rescue of the schooner Fortuna, 534 tons, Capt. Walls, lumber laden from Charleston to New York, reported dismasted 40 miles southward of Frying Pan shoals and in a very dangerous position. The Fortuna sailed from Charleston Saturday preceding the storm and encountered the gale immediately off the coast. The cutter immediately got under way and left port at 9 o'clock, expecting to reach the Fortuna during the afternoon, though she had not reported at Southport last night.

Later the schooner Florence M. Penley, 927 tons, Capt. Jameson, Tampa to Baltimore, was towed in from off Cape Fear bar by the tug Tormentor, of Baltimore, which has been in for harbor at Southport for several days. The Penley had all head sails carried away and the vessel is reported leaking.

The schooner Chas. H. Valentine, 535 tons, Capt. Walker, bound from Fromised Land to Charleston, was reported during the afternoon as having gone ashore on Edid Head Island, while attempting to sail in over Cape Fear bar for harbor. She was reported in a dangerous position and the tugs Tormentor, and the Wilmington tug Sea King, Capt. Carl Heyers, had gone to her assistance. They expected to float her during the high tide of last night.

The schooner Linah C. Kaminski, outward bound from Wilmington with cargo of lumber from the Buell-Crocker Lumber Co., for New York and which went to sea Saturday afternoon, rode out the gale off the Cape Fear bar, but she lost an anchor and 40 fathoms of chain. She reported otherwise all well and no damage to the vessel after a frightful experience.

The Italian barque Tomasso Drago, 352 tons, Capt. Orengo, from Santa Cruz to Bremen, was towed in during the afternoon with main yard carried away and short of water. She reports to Capt. C. D. Maffitt, who at once went to Southport yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock on the tug Sea King.

During the morning the Clyde steamer Winyah, 1,445 tons, Capt. Bunell, from New York to Jacksonville, arrived up for harbor leaking to some extent and possibly with some damage to her cargo of cement. Capt. Bunnell reported having encountered the worst of the weather between Lookout and Hatteras. He regretted having lost the mascot of the ship, a pet dog, overboard during the severe gale. The Winyah reports to Mr. H. G. Smallbones, the Clyde superintendent here and a board of survey of the vessel will likely be held.

Another vessel was reported off the bar during the afternoon, thought to be the schooner Millie R. Bohannon, 579 tons, Capt. Little, from Savannah, August 8th, for Philadelphia.

During the afternoon there was arrival of two steamers for Wilmington, but neither suffered any ostensible damage by the storm. They were the Danish steamer Annette Furness, 1,151 tons, Capt. Larsen, from Pomaron, with cargo of pyrites, and the British steamer Hermia, 1,305 tons, Capt. Fettes, light from Philadelphia, both reporting to Messrs. Alexander Sprunt & Son.

Yesterday's Charleston News and Courier has the following with reference to the schooner Fortuna:

"Cohen & Wells, ship brokers, received a wireless dispatch yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the wireless operator aboard the Mohawk, who took it from the operator aboard the Comanche, to the effect that the schooner Fortuna, which left Charleston Saturday with 484,000 feet of lumber from the Tuxbury Lumber Company, bound for New York, was dismantled sixty-eight miles westsouthwest of Frying Pan Shoals, off the North Carolina coast. She was reported as being in thirteen fathoms of water."

A MOUNTAIN RILL

Beautiful, sparkling mountain rill,
With thy tumbling, bubbling white water,
Flowing from the topmost peaks
To join the brimming river.
How oft, oh, how often, has thou quenched,
The thirst of man and satisfied his insatiate desire,
To freely drink at thy borders.

Of all the beverages invented by man,
From one till beyond number,
The God of Nature has created
Nothing so palatable, and satisfying
As pure cold water.
Should a weary and thirsty traveler rest upon thy banks
And hear thy unceasing murmur,
On thy journey to the sea.

He is reminded that Nature in her inexorable decree
Waits not for man.
Nature's motto is onward, onward, forever onward
Until time shall be no more.

Roll on thou beautiful rill,
And join the brimming river;
Flow on mighty river and empty into the ocean,
This is thy service and thou dost
But obey the simple law of nature,
Then the winds shall again take thee back
And the clouds shall again scatter thee,
And over and onward this process must go
To keep up the distribution.

DR. ALEXANDER SPRUNT.

Lost His Summer Home on Sullivan's Island—All Safe.

Relatives and many Wilmington friends of Rev. Dr. Alexander Sprunt, of Charleston, S. C., were much exercised Monday and yesterday over their welfare during the terrible storm that swept the South Carolina port and its Summer resort, Sullivan's Island, Sunday and Monday. They were much gratified to learn yesterday that while Dr. Sprunt suffered the loss of his Summer home and furnishings at Sullivan's Island, that all were gotten safely to Charleston on the steamers Sappho and Cypress, which brought 500 refugees from the storm-swept island. Hundreds of cottages on the island were destroyed and it is marvelous that no loss of life was suffered. The track of the Consolidated Railway was a mass of debris from Mt. Pleasant to the terminal at the Isle of Palms. Signal service was rendered the victims of the storm by the United States soldiers garrisoned at Fort Moultrie.

BROADER FIELD FOR TRADE.

Fifteen Fares Already Refunded by Trade Extension Association.

Customers and merchants in the smaller towns included in the territory covered by the Wilmington Trade Extension Association are rapidly taking notice of the free fare proposition of the local merchants. Fifteen fares of persons from various towns, including both merchants and retail customers, had been refunded by the association up to late yesterday, which is a most fratifying showing to Wilmington business interests. A number of those who did their trading here admitted they were attracted to Wilmington by the offer of the association and the results so far secured are equal to the expectations of the initial promoters of the trade extension movement.

The majority of dailies and weekly papers throughout the territory, realizing the advantages of sending customers to Wilmington in preference to having them send their orders to Northern houses, are heartily in accord with the movement and have readily published the news stories sent out by the secretary. A number of them have given brief editorial mention commending the motives of the organization. The idea, which gained circulation, that the association was only a temporary scheme to attract trade here is rapidly vanishing, as customers get their fares paid and return home to spread the news to their community. It is becoming more practical every day, and much interest is being manifested by both local merchants and outsiders.

NEGROES WERE DISORDERLY

Quartette Picked Up by Police Late Last Night

The police received a telephone message at 10:30 o'clock last night to the effect that one or two pistol shots had been fired at corner of Sixth and Chesnut streets and that a gang of negroes were seen on the corner at the time. The negroes were reported as going toward Princess street on Sixth. Assistant Chief of Police Woolard detailed Sergeants Burnett and Howell, the former going on his bicycle up Chesnut to Sixth and latter going afoot up Princess street. Sergeant Burnett got in behind the negroes, four in number. It was known for a certainty that they were the negroes wanted, so the officers followed behind until a point near Ninth and Market streets. Here the negroes were disorderly and the officers closed in on them. Srgeants Howell and Burnett were joined by Officers Nelms, McGrew, Long and Frank George. The negroes are: Willie Brown, William Hall, Walter Faison and Risky Reed. Disorderly conduct is entered against all and a charge of drunkness is also entered against Brown.

ARRESTED FOR AFFRAY.

Messrs. Tom Croom and Mack Godwin Resort to Fisticuffs.

Messrs. Tom Croom and Mack Godwin were arrested yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Starkey's place, No. 119 Princess street, and carried to police headquarters, where a charge of affray was entered against each and a charge of resisting an officer against Mr. Croom. Later each furnished bond in the sum of $100 for appearance in the Recorder's court this morning.

The altercation started in the restaurant rather suddenly, it is said, and both men were using their fists with good effect. There was quite a crowd inside when the fight started, but most of the spectators rushed out and watched from the sidewalk. Officer George was called in and placed both men under arrest. Mr. Croom is said to have resisted rather strenuously and the officer resorted to the use of his club. In the meantime Officer J. H. Davis was summoned from headquarters and with his assistance and that of several bystanders who were deputized the men were taken to the station. Mr. M. L. Starkey became surety on their bonds.

NEAR-ROW YESTERDAY.

Magistrate and Attorney Have Words Over Case.

Magistrate's Row came near being the stage for another eruption yesterday afternoon when, at the time set for the hearing of the case charging Mr. W. C. Baird, recently a conductor for the Tidewater Power Company, with an assault upon Mr. Kenneth McKenzie, an inspector for the same company, W. P. Gafford, Esq., counsel for the defendant, filed an affidavit that Mr. Baird could not get justice before Magistrate Bornemann and asked that the case be moved.

Justice Bornemann contended that Baird was willing to submit and he was loath to move the case. He is said to have removed his glasses and informed Mr. Gafford at what time he left the office on his way home. However, Mr. Gafford merely told him that the affidavit had been filed and that he could move the case or not, as he saw fit. After some further argument Justice Bornemann moved the case to Justice Harriss, who set the time for the hearing at 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

MISSIONARY CONVENTION

Big Meeting of Colored People Begins This Morning—Continues Through Sunday—Welcoming Address by Mayor Smith.

(By Geo. F. King.)

From nearly every section of the North and South where there is a colored Baptist church the trains entering the city are bringing large delegations to attend the 15th annual convention of the Lott Carey Baptist Foreign Mission convention, beginning today in Central Baptist church, Rev. G. W. Moore, D. D., pastor, Seventh and Red Cross streets. This organization is a potent factor in the development of negroes at home and in Africa, where it is doing a great work among the natives.

The convention is composed of many prominent negroes identified with a number of other movements, making the members of their race desirable citizens. Dr. C. S. Brown, who is the president of the convention, is one of the leading negro educators in America. With only $10 in his pocket he started the Waters Memorial Institute, Winton, N. C., and through sheer force of ability and the abnegation of many things essential for life, he has succeeded in establishing one of the most influential schools among negroes in the country. He is regarded as being among his race's most gifted speakers. Many important phases of the negro's activities will be discussed by influential and progressive members of the convention.

The convention begins this morning at 10 o'clock, with the following programme: Thirty minutes devotional exercises led by Revs. I. M. Powers, Willis Brown and L. O. Lewis; appointment of committees; enrollment of delegates and introduction of visitors. At 2:30 P. M. the afternoon session begins, with devotional exercises for 30 minutes, led by Dr. E. Watts, Petersburg, Va., Rev. G. D. Wharton, Oxford, N. C., and Rev. G. Sallie, Pittsburgh, Pa. A pertinent feature of this session will be the annual address by the president. It will be pregnant with many helpful suggestions relative to the religious influences of the negro.

Dr. W. M. Alexander, of Baltimore, Md., who is one of the leading negro theologians and scholars and one of the foremost men in making this religious body one of the greatest religious elements among negroes, will make his report at the afternoon session today. He has been the corresponding secretary for a number of years. Rev. P. F. Morris, D. D., field secretary; Dr. W. T. Johnson, chairman of the executive board; Nelson Williams, secretary; Dr. G. E. Reed, statistician and Rev. A. A. Graham, auditor, will make their reports at the session this afternoon.

At 7:30 o'clock tonight, President C. S. Brown, presiding, the exercises will be preceded by devotional exercises, led by Rev. J. M. Armstead, Portsmouth, Va.; Rev. R. B. Hardy, Charlottesville, Va.; Dr. R. Shepard, Durham, N. C. The programme for this evening will be quite an event. After the regular musical numbers beginning the programme the welcome address will be delivered by Rev. G. W. Moore and Hannah E. Kelly; welcome address on the part of the city, by Mayor Joseph D. Smith; on the part of the white clergy of the city, Rev. C. F. Whitlock, pastor of Brooklyn Baptist church; welcome on the part of the Baptist ministers, by Rev. W. H. Moore, pastor of Shiloh Baptist church; welcome on part of the ministers' conference, Dr. C. D. Carnes, pastor of St. Stevens A. M. E. church; responses by Dr. W. T. Johnson, Richmond, Va., and Dr. S. N. Vass, one of the leading negro Bible lecturers in the world. The introduction of delegates from New England Baptist convention will be by President C. S. Brown, and the response will be by Dr. W. A. Creditt, of Philadelphia.

There is a large number of women delegates, and they appear enthusiastic over their part of the programme—which will be featured tomorrow as the Woman's auxiliary of the convention. One of the women delegates said that the women connected with the churches of the convention are laboring zealously to increase the funds for the redemption of Africa.

JUDGE WARD TO BE HERE

Will Hold Criminal Term of Superior Court Next Month

Capt. W. N. Harriss, Deputy Clerk of the Superior Court, is in receipt of a letter from Judge G. W. Ward, in which he states that he hopes to be here September 25th to hold the criminal term of court which convenes then, but that it will be impossible for him to undertake the civil work of the term, as his doctor has advised him that he must not do any civil work of an onerous nature. Judge Ward asks Capt. Harriss to notify the members of the local bar accordingly.

Judge Ward writes from Virginia Beach, where he is convalescing from his recent illness. He states that he hopes soon to be entirely recovred and be able to get back to his work in earnest.

The term of Superior Court convening here September 25th was intended for a mixed civil and criminal term, but unless a judge is appointed in the meantime to relieve Judge Ward of the civil part of the docket it is extremely likely that this will have to be postponed.

Thirty Years Together

Thirty years of association—think of it. How the merit of a good thing stands out in that time—or the worthlessness of a bad one. So there's no guess work in this evidence of Thos. Ariss, Concord, Mich., who writes: "I have used Dr. King's New Discovery for 30 years, and its the best cough and cold cure I ever used." Once it finds entrance in a home you can't pry it out. Many families have used it forty years. It's the most infallible throat and lung medicine on earth. Unequalled for lagrippe, asthma, hay-fever, croup, quinsy or sore lungs. Price 50c., $1. SHOD FAMOUS RACE HORSES

Death of Blacksmith Who Had Business Down Fine

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 29.—W. A. Rawson, a blacksmith known throughout the uhorse world as one of the most expert horse shoers in America, died today of congestion of the lungs. In 1896 when James A. Murphy, of Chicago, purchased Star Pointer, he sent for Rawson, then conducting a shop in that city, to have the horse, a confirmed knee hitter, properly shod, and balanced. Rawson straightened out Star Pointer to such an extent that he paced a mile in 1:59 1-4, a world's record. Since then he had shod Lou Dillon, Uhlan and other numerous holders of world's records.

Yet another great day at the Bijou. That will be the status of the present day at this popular and attractive place, and the occasion is going to be made doubly interesting and enjoyable to the ladies, as today will be ladies' souvenir day. This means that every member of the charming feminine sex who attends the Bijou this afternoon between the hours of 2 and 7 o'clock will be presented with a copy of the latest edition of the Motion Picture Story Magazine. This periodical, which retails at the newsstands for 15 cents per copy, is a decidedly pretty publication and is alive with stirring tales of romance and adventure. The big photo-play list for today will be headed by a film founded on the theme of the well-known old song, "Then You'll Remember Me." 'Wages of War" is another star film for today. It is a war picture with an exceptional plot and it bristles with patriotism and stirring scenes. It will prove a rare treat. The other pictures are also fine ones, being the latest creations, and the music for today will be simply exquisite.

Where French Market Coffee Won Its Fame

Over 150 years ago the old French Market at New Orleans won fame through its exquisite coffee. It was a rare treat to stop at this celebrated market and sip of the delicious beverage—the only place in America where it could be secured.

The society dames of all the Mardi Gras Balls would not consider the event complete without a cup of French Market Coffee as a "nightcap."

In the War of 1812, after Andrew Jackson's brilliant victory, he stopped at the Market House and treated his troops to French Market Coffee.

Then it could be had nowhere else. But today you may all serve it at your table—for the old French Market blend is perpetuated by

COTTON MARKET SHOWS SLUMP

Turned Easier Yesterday Under Renewal of Monday's Selling Movement—Net Loss of 52 Points on August.

New York, Aug. 29.—After an early rally the cotton market turned easier again today under a renewal of yesterday's selling movement and while last prices were steady they showed a net loss of 52 points on August and of from 9 to 12 points on later positions.

The market opened steady at unchanged prices to an advance of 5 points, and new crop positions sold about 8 to 11 points higher during the early trading on covering by some of yesterday's sellers, which were probably influenced by better cables than looked for, continued expectation of a bullish government report on Friday, and apprehensions that the storms which were interfering with the wire service to Charleston and Savannah might be followed by private reports of crop damage in the Carolinas and Georgia.

The big bulls gave the market no support on the advance, however, and as reports from the Eastern belt received during the morning indicated no damage from the storm the market turned easier before midday. Later offerings were more aggressive, owing to rumors that recent leading buyers were attempting to unload their cotton and efforts to sell a few hundred bales of August again precipitated a sharp slump in the price of that position which sold at 12 cents or more than a cent under the high price of last Friday. New crop positions broke then 20 points from the early high level, and closed within 3 or 4 points of the lowest. It seemed to be a more or less general feeling around the ring that leading bulls were reducing their lines in advance of the government report next Friday and there was also an impression that other long lines of accumulation prior to the publication of the National Ginners' report were being gradually liquidated. A canvass of the local trade resulted in 76 individual estimates as to the probable showing of the government's condition figures which averaged 77.7 per cent.

Receipts today, 25,565 bales, against 17,627 bales last week and 21,200 bales last year. At New Orleans today, 7,409 bales, against 1,153 bales last week, and 2,617 bales last year. At Houston today, 10,927 bales, against 8,888 bales last week, and 7,899 last night.

ANOTHER REACTION IN STOCKS

Put An End to Advance on the Market—Hill Issues Features of the Railroad—Prices Receded Slowly

New York, August 29.—Further progress as made today in the forward movement in stocks which began yesterday before a reaction occurred which, for the time at least put an end to the advance. In the early part of the day, the standard issues were in steady demand, and yesterday's gains were increased substantially, although the three speculative leaders—Reading, Union Pacific and United States Steel—were less conspicuous than in the preceding session, gaining only fractions. The Hill issues were the features of the railroad list while Canadian Pacific, St. Paul, Erie, 1st pfd, Lehigh Valley and a number of industrials gained a point or more. Before noon, however, a reactionary movement set in. Prices receded slowly until the gains were cancelled. In the last hour selling became active and losses were extended. Southern Pacific, Missouri Pacific, Rock Island, Lehigh Valley and International Harvester sank to the low points of the year.

No new developments occurred to influence speculation and the recession appeared to be in the nature of profit-taking by traders, the effect of which was heightened by a renewal of short selling late in the session. Although the slump resulted in some sales of long stock, there were no indications of a renewal of the heavy liquidation which characterized trading earlier in the month.

The appearance of Canadian Pacific's report for the fiscal year ended June 30 was followed by a temporary gain of nearly two points in that stock. The report showed an increase of $9,178,000 in gross earnings, and $2,859,000 in net.

Bonds were steady. Total sales, par value, $1,0050,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales for the day, 462,900 shares.

STATE WILL CLOSE IN BEATTIE CASE

counsel for the defense.

"It is."

The boy's testimony revealed for the first time the presence of a second blood spot on the Midlothian Turnpike about 300 to 400 yards from the first blood spot. He said it was about 18 inches long.

J. B. Houchens, father-in-law of Paul Beattie, merely fixed as Friday, July 21st, the date when he informed Detective McMahon of Paul Beattie's purchase of the gun.

Paul Beattie was the first witness to take the stand when court re-convened today and was cross examined by the defense.

Paul Beattie denied knowing E. W. Booth, with whom Mr. Smith said he understood witness had discussed the murder and to whom it was reported Paul had said that he did not believe Henry committed the crime because he always was devoted to his wife. He declared he did not make such a statement to Mr. Booth or anyone else.

"You say you bought the gun on Saturday?" queried Mr. Smith.

"Yes."

"Did Henry say anything about keeping the matter of the gun secret that day?"

"No, not until after the murder."

"You didn't tell a living soul about the gun, though under no pledge of secrecy, from Saturday till Thursday night?"

"No, I did not tell anyone until then."

"Then you have made two conflicting statements in your previous testimony, as you said you told your wife Wednesday night and also Thursday."

"I never told her till Thursday night."

"Weren't you in a right bad fix when Detective McMahon found out that you bought the gun?"

"Sure. I was in a right bad fix."

"Another thing you omitted yesterday was the fact that you worked in a butcher shop near the pawn shop. Why did you do so?"

"I thought I mentioned enough places that I worked."

"But that was an important point to omit."

The witness made no comment.

"You say that Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., called upon the phone and asked you to buy the gun?"

"Yes."

"Had Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., ever called you on the phone since you were married a year ago? Had he ever since then visited you socially?"

"No. But he used to phone me before I was married."

The witness said he did not know Beulah Binford except she played the part of messenger between Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., and the woman of the under-world.

"You went out on the side porch of Henry's home on Thursday night after the murder?" asked counsel for the defense.

"I did."

"He never asked you before Thursday night 'to stick by him'?"

"He had no reason to because he did not tell me until Thursday that he did it."

"But you said you wouldn't stick by him and tell all, yet you did not tell all at the coroner's inquest the next day?"

"I hated to tell against my own flesh and blood and I hate it now."

"You told your wife only about the gun, not the whole business?"

"Yes'.

"Then you told her just enough to clear yourself."

"I wasn't trying to clear anybody."

"When Henry called you upon the 'phone and asked if you had been summoned by the coroner, he chuckled?"

"Yes, he laughed, 'Ha, ha, ha.'"

Cross-examination thus ended and Prosecutor Wendenburg took the witness on re-direct examination.

The prosecutor had the witness tell of his illness at the time of the inquest and how after his first collapse he was brought back to the witness stand from the hospital.

Judge Watson asked when Paul Beattie first saw the gun.

"On Saturday when I bought it," answered Paul Beattie.

"You didn't know what gun had been found?"

"No."

"Did you describe the peculiarity of the gun you had bought to Detective McMahon before you were shown the gun that was found?" asked Prosecutor Wendenburg.

"I did describe its peculiarities."

The witness was then excused.

W. B. Kidd, of Richmond, a hardware merchant, testified that Paul Beattie on the afternoon of July 15th bought three shells from him. The shell was produced which W. A. Brown, a stereotyper has testified he found several yards from the scene of the murder. Kidd identified the shell as similar to the three bought by Paul Beattie.

Sergeant Wiltshire, active in working up the case for the prosecution and a witness the first day of the trial, testified as to the exact place where Mandy Alexander pointed out that she found the gun.

Sergeant Saunders to whom the gun was delivered by Sergeant Witshire, described the blood spot on the gun.

"Did you see a scar on Henry Beattie Jr.'s nose?" asked Mr. Smith, trying to show that the blood on the gun might have come from a nose bleed that Henry was supposed to have had from his encounter with the alleged highwayman.

"I did."

"What kind of spots were there on the gun?"

"Two small spots, evidently from the tips of the fingers."

Thomas Owen, uncle of the dead woman, was called by the prosecution and told of the burning of Mrs. Beattie's clothing after the murder.

"How did the clothes come to be burned?" asked Prosecutor Wendenburg.

"At the suggestion of my wife."

"Did you see any glove in the Beattie car after the dead woman was brought to your house?"

"Yes, I saw one soaked with blood."

"Do you know what's become of it?"

"No."

"Do I understand then that Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., was in no way responsible for having the clothes burned?" asked Mr. Smith.

"He was not."

ing into port today tell of terrific battles fought with the sea Sunday and Monday as the result of the storm which swept the coast of the Carolinas. Only one ship in the Savannah coast territory suffered injury, however, the steamer Lexington of the Merchants' and Miners' Transportation, which went ashore on Huntington Island, S. C., at the mouth of Edisto river. The vessel is high and dry on the rocks and will be floated with great difficulty. The passengers were taken off late this afternoon by the Revenue Cutter Yamacraw and proceeded to Charleston.

Five men were taken off the schooner Fortuna today by the tank steamer Ligonier, northbound. The captain, his wife and the cook refused to leave the ship.

The steamer City of Savannah, from New York, docked safely at 9 o'clock this morning after a hard fight with the waves. Capt. Berg reported passing an unknown schooner with her topmast and jibboom gone, 60 miles south of Frying Pan lightship.

Many small boats, launches and the government survey boat Gem were sunk. In the city the signs of the storm are rapidly being removed. Telegraphic communication with the outside world was resumed today and the street light and lighting systems are again in operation.

Clyde Line Safe

Charleston, S. C., Aug. 29.—Plunging towards apparent certain destruction on the beach of Hunting Island, in the midst of the hurricane that swept the Carolina coast on Sunday night and Monday, the Clyde Liner Apache, with 125 pasengers aboard was saved in the nick of time by a sudden change in the wind and came in to Charleston harbor this morning badly racked by wind and sea, but not seriously damaged. For a tense five minutes the passengers of the Apache stood on the lower deck with life preservers around their bodies waiting for the vessel to strike and determined to make as stout a fight as they could for their lives.

Driven along by a wind the speed of which was estimated by Captain William Staples, of the liner, at 100 miles an hour, the big steamer found herself helpless at about 1:30 o'clock on Monday afternoon. She was bound south from New York and had been blown past the mouth of the harbor to a point off Huntington Island. The gale swept her in shore and its force proved irresistable. Full speed ahead into the teeth of the storm could not drive the liner forward and when two anchors were put overboard the chains snapped like cords. Helpless in the grasp of the hurricane, the ship was being literally hurled towards the Huntington Island breakers and the passengers, with life preservers on, had well nigh given up hope when suddenly the wind shifted and the vessel was saved.

Capt. Staples told a vivid story.

"From a terrible wind which threatened momentarily our destruction, we had entered as calm a sea as ever nature made.

"But the calm lasted only a few minutes. Twenty minutes later the wind struck us with greater force than ever and the barometer began falling. The wind was from the southeast and I believe it must have been blowing at the rate of at least 100 miles an hour. At Huntington Island we ran a close race with death. To go toward land meant destruction, but the wind was too strong and we had no option but to be blown landward. Suddenly about 2 P. M., the wind shifted from the southeast to the south which gave us a chance to head eastward and get off into deep water."

F. J. Doherity, wireless operator of the Apache, stated that the wind blew the vesel a distance of about 75 miles.

Passengers of the Apache today drew up resolutions expressing their thanks to Capt. Staples and his officers and crew, and appointed a committee to present them a loving cup.

The damage to the Apache consists of the loss of her anchors and the soaking of every part of the ship, including all her apartments in seawater.

Savannah, Ga., Aug. 29.—The News of this morning says of the storm in this city:

"Savannah has passed through the most violent hurricane in the history of the local weather bureau, although other storms that have visited this city claimed larger toll of life and property.

"There were no casualties in the city proper. While several fishing parties have not yet been accounted for, it is not known that any lives were lost in the waters or on the islands adjacent to Savannah.

"Although the wind continued high in gusts until after midnight last night, the barometer was continuing its climb that was begun in the morning, after the storm center passed Savannah. At night Forecaster Boyer expressed the belief that the weather will begin to clear up today.

"With an 88-mile winds, between 3 and 4 o'clock in the morning, the greatest wind velocity ever recorded in Savannah, went on the records. There were several times during this period that terrific gusts registered 96 miles an hour, but 88 miles was the highest for five minute periods, from which the records are made. It was blowing at that rate at 3:05 o'clock and again at 3:50 o'clock. The barometer went to 29.02 inches, the lowest mark ever recorded in the Savannah bureau.

"It is, of course, impossible to estimate the property loss occasioned by the hurricane. There is no way in which this can be computed because of the nature of the damage done throughout the city. It is probably a fact that there was not a home or business house in Savannah that did not sustain some damage. The rain was driven into home after home and countless walls were ruined.

"Window glasses were blown in and the rain driven in the houses."

House with a Republican majority, we lacked only five votes of killing it by recommitting it.

"The President is not enough of a tariff expert to justify him in vetoing tariff bills which passed the House by majorities of more than 2 to 1.

"The President implies that he refused to sign the wool bill because it was introduced and rushed through without due consideration. Let's see. Instead of being slapped together hastily without due consideration, it was one of the most thoroughly and carefully considered tariff bills ever presented to any President for his signature.

"In view of the foregoing facts, it surely must be that the President in his zeal to reform the broken lines of the standpatters, forgot that all men were entitled to a square deal when he uttered this monstrous and preposterous sentence:

"'The bills bear internal evidence of the fact that they rested on a basis of not tariff for revenue only, but tariff for politics only'.

Really, I do not see how he could find it in his heart to utter the foregoing words, for which there is no basis of fact in the unviverse.

"'Never in the history of the government, I venture to say, have important interests been dealt with in such light-hearted way with such absolute ignorance of the effect of legislation and with such willingness to sacrifice business interests to political exigencies.'

"That is as reckless and unfair a statement as has been put into print since Guttenberg invented movable type, and is a personal reflection on the sense, honesty, integrity, bona fide, and patriotism of every man, Democrat or Republican who voted for those bills. As such, I resent them not for myself alone, but for all who voted as I did.

"The President rushed in to create an issue. We pick up the glove flung into our faces and the faces of the consumers of the land. We gladly accept his guage of battle. We confidently believe that the people will endorse our cause and give to us the victory for we have right and truth and justice on our side."

FARMERS' CONVENTION.

Governor Kitchin Addresses Visitors. Other Raleigh News.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 29.—Governor Kitchin was greeted by 300 or more farmers out at the A. & M. College this morning when he arose to welcome the State Farmers' Convention and State Women's Farm Life Convention to Raleigh for three days sessions. He extoled the progress North Carolina farmers are making in intensive and the most successful farming and congratulated the members of the convention on the fact that during the next three days they would have the privilege of hearing and profiting by some of the best known agricultural experts to be found in the whole country. There were also welcoming remarks by Dr. D. H. Hill, president of the college, and Major W. A. Graham, commission of Agriculture. Editor C. H. Poe, of the Progressive Farmer, delivered an address on North Carolina's opportunity of agricultural advancement. And State Chemist B. W. Kilgore discussed the "Soil Balance Sheet of the Farm." E. C. Moss, of the United States Department of Agriculture, discussed "Tobacco Culture," and D. E. Earle, also of the Federal department, treated "The Standardization of Cotton." The conventions have assembled for three days sessions, the ladies holding separate sessions and having a special programme of their own. Mrs. W. N. Hutt is president of the Woman's Farm Life Convention, and Mr. Frank Shields, of Scotland Neck, is president of the State Farmers Convention.

The deeds have passed for the transfer of the Academy of Music property here from the Charlotte corporation headed by W. M. Brown, to a Raleigh corporation in which H. C. Litchford, F. K. Ellington and other prominent Raleigh capitalists will be the principal stockholders. The plan is to erect an entirely new Academy on the street level adjacent to the present Academy building and convert the upper floors of the present building into an annex for Hotel Wright that adjoins it on the west side. Architects are preparing plans.

The Wake County Good Roads Association has named as delegate to the Appalachian Good Roads Association to meet in Roanoke, Va., October 4th, and 5th. Dr. R. H. Lewis, E. E. Britton, P. W. Governor Kitchin has been appealed to by Miss Lillian Rummell, of San-Francisco, to aid her in ascertaining if her missing brother, Fred William Rummel, is in this State. He has been missing for 18 years.

"KNIGHTS OF STEEL RAIL."

Association Meets at Chicago—Business for Transaction.

Chicago, Aug. 29.—The convention of the Traveling Engineers' Association, which begins today at the Hotel Sherman, has brought to Chicago a small army of "knights of the steel rails," who gather "to improve locomotive engine service of American railroads," as the preamble of the organization reads. It will be the nineteenth annual meeting of the society.

Secretary W. O. Thompson, of East Buffalo, N. Y., speaking of the membership of the association today, said that the men who will attend the opening of the convention tomorrow represent over thirty millions of miles of traveling.

The convention will continue for four days, adjourning on Friday. Simultaneously with it the association of Supplymen is conducting an exhibit of trainmen's supplies, which is declared to be the largest collection of its kind ever shown. The exhibit was opened to the public today.

There are several live issues which will come up for discussion and action during the course of convention, including the union problem.

New York, Aug. 29.—The missing "Mona Lisa", the famous painting by Leonardo Da Vinci, which mysteriously disappeared from the Louvre in Paris and later was reported to have been taken secretly on board the Kaiser Wilhelm II, when she touched at Cherbourg, was not to be found on board that ship when she docked here today.
